Full Penalty Sought In Ruby Trial

First Prospective Juror Believes He Could Vote Death

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade, questioning the first prospective juror in Jack Ruby's murder trial, said today "we will ask for a verdict of death."

The jury candidate, Hillard M. Stone, an illustrator, said he felt he could vote for the death penalty.

Ruby sat between defense attorneys Melvin Belli and Joe Tonahill. He kept his eyes riveted on Stone. He showed no change of expression when the question of the death penalty came into the hearing.

It was the second day of Ruby's trial.

He is charged with murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

The defense says it is impossible to get an impartial jury in Dallas.

"Nothing happened this morning to change my opinion about that," said Melvin M. Belli, chief counsel for Ruby, after seeing the first 150 prospective jurors in the courtroom of District Judge Joe B. Brown.

The question of an impartial jury is a pivotal point in the defense of Ruby.

Kennedy was assassinated on Nov. 22, only 210 feet from the scene of the trial. Two days later, in the basement of the Dallas City Hall, Ruby killed Lee Harvey Oswald, who had been charged with murdering the President.

The defense contends Dallas is freighted with prejudice and feelings of guilt. Belli says "the shame brought on the Dallas image" is such that a juror "would be obligated to convict Jack Ruby of murder with malice (a capital offense) to prove that Dallas is a place of law and order."

Belli, an urbane, gray-haired San Franciscan, wants the trial moved to a city at least 200 miles from Dallas.

Nine hundred prospective jurors are available for questioning on their qualifications. Questioning begins with Mrs. C.C. Cherry, Hilliard M. Stone, and J.E. Saunders.

Belli and the district attorney, Henry M. Wade, each will have 15 peremptory challenges with which they can reject a prospective juror without stating a reason.

Each side also has an unlimited number of challenges "for cause." In this instance, the attorney must state his reason for not wanting a person on the jury. The judge decides whether the reason is valid.

Ruby's defense is temporary

Hancock Unit Planned

New Children's Home To Be Built

Construction of a new Children's Home for Hancock County has been approved by the home's Board of Trustees, it was announced today by William C. Graham, president.

Plans for the new structure have been prepared by Ray Shaw, Weirton architect, and approved by Miss Callie Tsapis of Chester, who serves as the board's legal advisor.

BIDS FOR the modern, new dormitory - type building, to be erected on the property of the present crowded home on Gas Valley Rd. near Pughtown, are to be opened March 16 at the Courthouse.

The cost is expected to be in the vicinity of $150,000.

Graham's announcement said "This decision is based on the funds now available and those anticipated for the completion of this project."

The Board of Trustees previously discussed construction of an addition to the present Children's Home, but apparently has abandoned this plan to cope with the current overcrowded conditions.

THE WEIRTON architect said the new structure would be 216 feet long and 60 feet wide, containing space for about 80 youngsters.

The rooms would be dormitory type, with dividers, and the entire building would be of fire - resistant masonary and steel.

The one - story structure, to also contain a kitchen, dining-room and study and recreation areas, would be erected close to the present structure, and perhaps connected by a passageway.

SHAW REPORTED the present two - story farmhouse serving as the County Children's Home would be converted into living quarters for the staff members and a sick ward for the youngsters.

At the board meeting Monday night in the Courthouse, a $100 contribution was presented by Mrs. Thomas Kinder of Weirton, president of the Gamma Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Next meeting will be March 16, when contracts are expected to be let for construction of the new home. The present home now has approximately 30 youngsters.

Recommendation Criticized

Board Will Act March 2 On Heasley's Successor

The Board of Education is not expected to consider a successor to William C. (Chuck) Heasley as a member until its regular meeting March 2.

Heasley, who is moving to Ashtabula where he has been staff manager of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. office since late last year, announced his immediate resignation on Monday after serving only 45 days of the four-year term to which he was elected in November.

State law provides the board can fill any vacancy at its next regular or special meeting but must act earlier than 10 days after the vacancy is created.

The law also provides a majority of the remaining board members may fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. No special election would be held, officials said.

Heasley's letter to the board dated Saturday said his resignation was effective immediately, which means the 10-day waiting period required by state law would be passed by the time of the meeting March 2.

He recommended the board consider naming Herman L. Steffen, 444 1st Ave., as his replacement. Heasley wrote, "I feel it is my responsibility to the voters who elected me to recommend someone whose thoughts and ideas are as mine."

However, some board members indicated they feel Heasley was presumptuous in seeking Steffen's election.

With recurrent rumors about Heasley's impending resignation, board members individually and privately have given

4 Teen-Agers Injured In Crash At Wellsville

Four teen-agers received minor injuries when the car in which they were riding slid on ice and hit a wall at the corner of Henry and Buckeye Aves., Wellsville, Monday at 7:15 p. m.

Linda Thompson, 1124 Hillcrest Rd., Wellsville, was the driver. She was turning off Henry onto Buckeye when the car slid on the ice, police said.

She and three companions were treated by a local physician for bumps and bruises. They were Sarah DeSenze, Mickey Comparetta and Richard Murray.

A neighbor saw the steam coming from broken radiator of the car and summoned the fire department. There was no fire, however.

Newell Driver Held In Chase To Toronto

A Newell jockey arrested Monday night after a high-speed chase that started in Newell and ended in Toronto was in Hancock County Jail today awaiting a hearing on at least two charges.

Deputy Paul R. Cowey and Constable J. Carl Durham of Newell pursued William H. Jurgens, 21, down Route 7 until his apprehension at a roadblock in Toronto.

The officers attempted to serve warrants on Jurgens in Newell shortly before 9 Monday night, but the Middletown, (Ill.) native headed for his auto and sped away, the sheriff's office reported.

Giving chase in the sheriff's cruiser, the officers pursued Jurgens across the Newell Bridge, and notified East Liverpool police at 8:55 that they were in pursuit of a suspect.

At 9:05, Toronto police were advised by radio that Jurgens was headed south on Route 7, and officers there set up a roadblock.

The sheriff's office said the chase down Route 7 was at speeds reaching 120 miles per hour at one time.

Fifteen minutes after the chase started in Newell, it ended with the arrest of Jurgens

U.S. Army Maintains Viet Watch

Seeks To Counter Red Terror Drive Fatal To Americans

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Army maintained special guards on American installations in Saigon today to counter a Communist terror campaign that has killed three Americans and wounded more than 50 in the past two nights.

U.S. and Vietnamese officials also set up a Joint Security Council to work for greater safety for the thousands of U.S. servicemen and civilians and their families in the Vietnamese capital.

American military policemen stood guard at schools attended by American children and rode on school buses. U.S. soldiers patrolled other American installations.

Some of the same Vietnamese police strongarm men who were assigned last summer to roughing up Buddhists and Western newsmen were on duty at the American schools along with the U.S. servicemen.

They included Inspector Lam Van Ly, one of Saigon's most feared judo experts and strongarm men under President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime.

About 2,500 American civilians live in Saigon, including military wives and children. The total of Americans in the capital, counting servicemen and officials, is believed to be about 10,000.

U.S. officials denied any consideration was being given to sending civilian dependents back to the United States.

The terrorist campaign continued Monday night with an attack from ambush on three American military men. One was wounded slightly when a grenade was hurled at their car.

Unconfirmed reports said the Viet Cong rebels were circulating leaflets saying "Two Americans a day."

The Joint Security Council, composed of three Vietnamese and three U.S. security officers, held its first meeting Monday. Premier Nguyen Khanh assured U.S. Charge d'Affaires David G. Nes, that the Vietnamese government is giving special attention to the American security problem.

U.S.-Panama Issue Back In Washington

PANAMA (AP)—The Organization of American States, trying to break the five-week deadlock in the U.S.-Panama dispute, shifted its peacemaking effort back to Washington today after evident failure in the Panamanian capital.

The five-nation OAS committee's departure for Washington early today signaled failure of its week-long search here for a formula on which the two countries might settle their differences. U.S. special negotiator Edwin M. Martin also left for Washington.

Informants said the OAS group would have remained longer if the United States or Panama had shown any favor for a peace proposal advanced by Juan Plate of Paraguay, chairman of the special inquiry committee. Terms were not disclosed.

Plate conferred with Martin and Panamanian Foreign Minister Galileo Solis, while the committee investigated Panama's charges of U.S. aggression in the Jan. 9-11 rioting that left 24 dead, including four Americans.

Supreme Court Ruling Welcomed By Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reaction among congressmen indicated support today for the Supreme Court ruling that House members should represent equal numbers of people.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and unsuccessful sponsor for 15 years of a bill calling for equality in congressional districts, said he was "happy about the court's momentous decision."

"It is a great step forward in giving the districts fair, equitable and just representation," Celler said.

Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., said: "This has been long coming. I can't see any fault in it."

Analysts at Republican headquarters said the Republicans probably will gain seats in the House as a result of the high court's decision. But Democratic spokesmen said "the majority party is the Democratic party and it cannot but benefit from any move which attempts to give all citizens as close as is practicable" an equal voice in electing House members.

House leaders from both parties blasted a dissenting opinion by Associate Justice John M. Harlan, who argued that the verdict "casts grave doubt on the constitutionality of the composition of the House of Representatives."

Harlan said the ruling "places in jeopardy the seats of almost all the members of the present House of Representatives," because only 37 of the 432 present members were elected from districts that conform with the court's ruling.

"It's pretty far-fetched to intimate that actions by the House might prove to be illegal," said Leslie Arends of Illinois, the assistant Republican leader.

"Of course the House is constitutional," asserted Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

The court's decision was by a 6-2 vote with Justice Tom Clark concurring on some points and dissenting on others. The majority opinion was by the court's senior associate justice Hugo M. Black.

It concluded: "While it may not be possible to draw congressional districts with mathematical precision, there is no excuse for ignoring our Constitution's plain objective of making equal representation for equal numbers of people the fundamental goal for the House of Representatives."

The specific case before the high tribunal involved Georgia's 5th District, which includes the Atlanta metropolitan area. It has 823,680 persons compared with only 272,154 in the adjoining, rural 9th District.

"We agree with the District Court that the 1931 Georgia apportionment grossly discriminates against voters in the 5th Congressional District," Black's opinion said. "A single congressman represents from two to three times as many 5th District voters as are represented by each of the congressmen from the other Georgia congressional districts."

The high court returned the case to the District Court for further action.

Proposals Labeled As Unrealistic

Western Powers Lack Enthusiasm, Red Delegate Says

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union today rejected the Western proposals for phased gradual disarmament as unrealistic and said there appeared little likelihood of East-West compromise.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin accused the Western powers at the 17-nation disarmament conference of "lack of enthusiasm" in discussing Soviet proposals and said the West "does not give us much hope" for progress in the Geneva negotiations.

Tasrapkin told the conference the U.S. government "does not face reality" in proposing an across-the-board, 30 per cent reduction of arms in the first stage of disarmament and 35 per cent in each of two subsequent phases.

He accused the U.S. government of pushing production of nuclear weapons to shift the nuclear balance heavily in its own favor before staged disarmament begins. "Five years from now the production of nuclear weapons will be trebled" in the United States, Tsarapkin asserted.

He said in view of continued U.S. production of rockets, the danger of nuclear war would in effect increase under the Western plan, because by the time disarmament could begin there would be many more rockets in existence than now despite the envisaged reductions.

Raises Asked By Union And Police Force

Both Groups Seek 25 Per Cent Boosts And Other Benefits

General 25 per cent wage increases, plus other benefits, were asked by the police department and a union representing city employes in separate propositions presented to Council Monday night.

Both sets of requests were referred to the finance committee, which was given another proposal for a 25 per cent pay hike filed Feb. 3 by Local 24, International Association of Fire - Fighters.

A six - man delegation representing the wage and grievance committee of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 29 conferred with Council on a five-point proposal.

In addition to the general raise, the FOP also sought:

Increased vacation time based on length of service.

Longevity pay that would gradually boost the salaries of officers in five - year increments.

Designation of 11 holidays, with double - time pay for men required to work and a regular wage for those off - duty.

An increase from $100 to $200 in the annual uniform allowance.

In connection with the vacation request, the FOP said time off now is fixed at 15 calendar days for officers with less than 10 years' service and 22 calendar days for those with more than 10 years on the force. The FOP asked that the time off be based on 15 and 22 working days, respectively. Five days constitute a work week in the police department.

It suggested longevity pay in

Rep. Taft's Candidacy Certified For Primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown certified his Republican opponent, Congressman-at-large Robert Taft Jr., today as a candidate for the U.S. senatorial nomination in Ohio's May 5 primary.

Brown, who had withheld certification for a check of petition technicalities, made his ruling after a 30-minute hearing in his Statehouse office.

Plans Aired For Chester Sewage Plant

Financing of Chester's planned sewage disposal system was discussed further by city authorities with the engineer and bonding firm representative for the project at a meeting Monday night at the City Hall.

A proposed lateral sewer system to serve outlying areas of the city, costing some $230,000, was eliminated from the plan because of the expense, which would have boosted the sewer rate to over 160 per cent of the water rate.

Meeting with Council and the Sanitary Board were A. R. Todd of Wheeling, engineer, and Harry Lemeier of the Magnuson Co. of Cincinnati, bonding firm, for the project.

Discussion was held on whether the bonds for the project should be for 35 or 40 years.

Lemeier proposed the original contract, which offered the bonds at 3½ per cent for 35 years with a 10 per cent discount be changed to 4.25 per vent for 40 years with a 5 per cent discount. He said the financing would be more for the long-

Council Votes $30,000 For General Fund

Citywide Tax Study Also Cleared With $2,000 Allocation

Council gave approval Monday night to an ordinance shifting $30,000 from income tax revenue to the general fund to allow the city to meet its bills and payrolls pending receipt of the first real estate tax settlements for 1964.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper pointed out to Council that the transfer is an alternative to borrowing operating funds from a financial institution, as has been done on some occasions in the past.

In shifting the required money from income tax receipts, the city will save on interest changes that would be paid on a loan, he pointed out.

Cooper pointed out the tax collection at Lisbon does not close until next month.

The same measure provided $6,410 for other purposes, including $2,000 to make a city-wide survey to assure that the names of all prospective city

Tax Cut Bill Given Boost By Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees on the tax cut bill have made sure the nation's wage and salary earners will get the benefit of the reductions at the earliest possible moment.

They agreed Monday to accept a Senate provision which will make the new lower withholding rates in the bill effective with pay checks delivered eight days after the measure is signed into law.

This was a victory for the administration, which has been pressing to have the effects of the tax cut felt in the economy as soon as possible.

Some companies have notified Congress it will be difficult to make the change in their pay rolls within a week.

The conferees resume their closed sessions early today in an effort to complete action on the 400-page bill this afternoon.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., head of the House group and the conference chairman, told newsmen it was decided at Monday's session to announce only the decision on the effective date for the cut in withholding.

The conference Monday succeeded in getting through about half of the 208 changes made by the Senate in the House bill. Many major differences were put aside for later decision.

It was understood they agreed tentatively to continue to allow deductions for state gasoline taxes. The House had voted to eliminate these as a deduction, but the Senate version reversed this.

In its final form, the bill is expected to provide individual and corporate tax cuts totaling about $11.5 billion a year. Cuts for most individuals will average about 19 per cent.

During Dinner Meeting

10 New Directors Named By Wellsville's Chamber

Ten new members to the Board of Directors, elected by a mail ballot, were announced during the annual dinner meeting of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce Monday night at Meade's Restaurant. Thirty attended.

The new directors are Allen Dalrymple, Fred Huston, Lloyd Rhodes and Donald Baxter, three-year terms; Dwight Russell, George Rowen, James Beatty and J. Frederick Russell, two years and Harold Sneddon and Charles Donaldson one year.

The new board will meet Thursday night at 8 to reorganize and elect officers.

Thomas P. Broderick, 1020 Main St., Wellsville, a metallurgist at the Toronto plant of the Titanium Metals Corp. of America, was guest speaker. He recently was named supervisor of the strip mill division of the plant.

The firm is installing a new strip mill which will go into operation shortly. Borderick reviewed the history of the metal and the firm.

Titanium withstands high temperatures, is immune to atmospheric and salt water corrosion and is 50 per cent lighter than steel, he pointed out.

"Fifteen years ago we read of the Buck Rogers age in the funnies and now we are in the middle of that age," Broderick pointed out. He said that five years from now there will be commercial planes with cruising speeds of 2,000 miles per hour and that the crafts will be made of titanium.

Board Will Act March 2 On Heasley's Successor

The specific case before the high tribunal involved Georgia's 5th District, which includes the Atlanta metropolitan area. It has 823,680 persons compared with only 272,154 in the adjoining, rural 9th District.

"We agree with the District Court that the 1931 Georgia apportionment grossly discriminates against voters in the 5th Congressional District," Black's opinion said. "A single congressman represents from two to three times as many 5th District voters as are represented by each of the congressmen from the other Georgia congressional districts."

The high court returned the case to the District Court for further action.

Raises Asked By Union And Police Force

Both Groups Seek 25 Per Cent Boosts And Other Benefits

General 25 per cent wage increases, plus other benefits, were asked by the police department and a union representing city employes in separate propositions presented to Council Monday night.

Both sets of requests were referred to the finance committee, which was given another proposal for a 25 per cent pay hike filed Feb. 3 by Local 24, International Association of Fire - Fighters.

A six - man delegation representing the wage and grievance committee of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 29 conferred with Council on a five-point proposal.

In addition to the general raise, the FOP also sought:

Increased vacation time based on length of service.

Longevity pay that would gradually boost the salaries of officers in five - year increments.

Designation of 11 holidays, with double - time pay for men required to work and a regular wage for those off - duty.

An increase from $100 to $200 in the annual uniform allowance.

In connection with the vacation request, the FOP said time off now is fixed at 15 calendar days for officers with less than 10 years' service and 22 calendar days for those with more than 10 years on the force. The FOP asked that the time off be based on 15 and 22 working days, respectively. Five days constitute a work week in the police department.

It suggested longevity pay in

Rep. Taft's Candidacy Certified For Primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown certified his Republican opponent, Congressman-at-large Robert Taft Jr., today as a candidate for the U.S. senatorial nomination in Ohio's May 5 primary.

Brown, who had withheld certification for a check of petition technicalities, made his ruling after a 30-minute hearing in his Statehouse office.

Plans Aired For Chester Sewage Plant

Financing of Chester's planned sewage disposal system was discussed further by city authorities with the engineer and bonding firm representative for the project at a meeting Monday night at the City Hall.

A proposed lateral sewer system to serve outlying areas of the city, costing some $230,000, was eliminated from the plan because of the expense, which would have boosted the sewer rate to over 160 per cent of the water rate.

Meeting with Council and the Sanitary Board were A. R. Todd of Wheeling, engineer, and Harry Lemeier of the Magnuson Co. of Cincinnati, bonding firm, for the project.

Discussion was held on whether the bonds for the project should be for 35 or 40 years.

Lemeier proposed the original contract, which offered the bonds at 3½ per cent for 35 years with a 10 per cent discount be changed to 4.25 per vent for 40 years with a 5 per cent discount. He said the financing would be more for the long-

Council Votes $30,000 For General Fund

Citywide Tax Study Also Cleared With $2,000 Allocation

Council gave approval Monday night to an ordinance shifting $30,000 from income tax revenue to the general fund to allow the city to meet its bills and payrolls pending receipt of the first real estate tax settlements for 1964.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper pointed out to Council that the transfer is an alternative to borrowing operating funds from a financial institution, as has been done on some occasions in the past.

In shifting the required money from income tax receipts, the city will save on interest changes that would be paid on a loan, he pointed out.

Cooper pointed out the tax collection at Lisbon does not close until next month.

The same measure provided $6,410 for other purposes, including $2,000 to make a city-wide survey to assure that the names of all prospective city

During Dinner Meeting

10 New Directors Named By Wellsville's Chamber

Ten new members to the Board of Directors, elected by a mail ballot, were announced during the annual dinner meeting of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce Monday night at Meade's Restaurant. Thirty attended.

The new directors are Allen Dalrymple, Fred Huston, Lloyd Rhodes and Donald Baxter, three-year terms; Dwight Russell, George Rowen, James Beatty and J. Frederick Russell, two years and Harold Sneddon and Charles Donaldson one year.

The new board will meet Thursday night at 8 to reorganize and elect officers.

Thomas P. Broderick, 1020 Main St., Wellsville, a metallurgist at the Toronto plant of the Titanium Metals Corp. of America, was guest speaker. He recently was named supervisor of the strip mill division of the plant.

The firm is installing a new strip mill which will go into operation shortly. Borderick reviewed the history of the metal and the firm.

Titanium withstands high temperatures, is immune to atmospheric and salt water corrosion and is 50 per cent lighter than steel, he pointed out.

"Fifteen years ago we read of the Buck Rogers age in the funnies and now we are in the middle of that age," Broderick pointed out. He said that five years from now there will be commercial planes with cruising speeds of 2,000 miles per hour and that the crafts will be made of titanium.

Proposals Labeled As Unrealistic

Western Powers Lack Enthusiasm, Red Delegate Says

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union today rejected the Western proposals for phased gradual disarmament as unrealistic and said there appeared little likelihood of East-West compromise.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin accused the Western powers at the 17-nation disarmament conference of "lack of enthusiasm" in discussing Soviet proposals and said the West "does not give us much hope" for progress in the Geneva negotiations.

Tasrapkin told the conference the U.S. government "does not face reality" in proposing an across-the-board, 30 per cent reduction of arms in the first stage of disarmament and 35 per cent in each of two subsequent phases.

He accused the U.S. government of pushing production of nuclear weapons to shift the nuclear balance heavily in its own favor before staged disarmament begins. "Five years from now the production of nuclear weapons will be trebled" in the United States, Tsarapkin asserted.

He said in view of continued U.S. production of rockets, the danger of nuclear war would in effect increase under the Western plan, because by the time disarmament could begin there would be many more rockets in existence than now despite the envisaged reductions.

Tax Cut Bill Given Boost By Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees on the tax cut bill have made sure the nation's wage and salary earners will get the benefit of the reductions at the earliest possible moment.

They agreed Monday to accept a Senate provision which will make the new lower withholding rates in the bill effective with pay checks delivered eight days after the measure is signed into law.

This was a victory for the administration, which has been pressing to have the effects of the tax cut felt in the economy as soon as possible.

Some companies have notified Congress it will be difficult to make the change in their pay rolls within a week.

The conferees resume their closed sessions early today in an effort to complete action on the 400-page bill this afternoon.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., head of the House group and the conference chairman, told newsmen it was decided at Monday's session to announce only the decision on the effective date for the cut in withholding.

The conference Monday succeeded in getting through about half of the 208 changes made by the Senate in the House bill. Many major differences were put aside for later decision.

It was understood they agreed tentatively to continue to allow deductions for state gasoline taxes. The House had voted to eliminate these as a deduction, but the Senate version reversed this.

In its final form, the bill is expected to provide individual and corporate tax cuts totaling about $11.5 billion a year. Cuts for most individuals will average about 19 per cent.

Filling Of County Health Commissioner Post Aired

LISBON — A discussion on filling the health commissioner vacancy was held by the Columbiana County Board of Health Monday evening in the Law Library with Atty. Howard Cole of Lisbon, president, presiding.

Atty. Cole was to meet with Dr. B. E. Gardner, director of local services for the State Health Department, this afternoon in regards to obtaining a new commissioner, either full-time or part-time.

Fred Johnson of Summitville, a member, suggested that all persons who made application be sent a regular form and to find out what salary each expects, to contact neighboring counties on whether their commissioner could come to Lisbon one or two days per week and also to consult with the Columbiana County Medical Society to see if a local physician would want to work a day or two a week as county health commissioner.

A letter was read from Dr. William Gilmore of East Liverpool, representing the medical society, urging the board hire a doctor for the post, from which Dr. C. S. Palmer is retiring.

The board also discussed the 1965 budget of approximately $93,000 but took no official action except to set the amount the same as this year, providing expenditures and revenues remain unchanged.

A letter was read from the League of Women Voters, asking the board to try to organize all health departments in the county under one head.

Cole cited the law requiring the board's advisory committee, comprised of chairman of trustees of each township and mayors of villages, or present city health departments, to make a request to join the county health district.

Francis Bezdek of Lisbon R. D. 5, chairman of the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council, discussed the advantages of one health district for the entire county instead of the five now in operation.

Dr. Palmer's monthly report showed the department issued 15 plumbing and five sewage permits during January.

Harry Stockdale, sanitarian, reported his inspections included 22 refuse, 13 sewage, eight food service, six nuisances and six schools and that he took six water samples and held 15 consultations.

Eugene Cover, plumbing inspector, reported his inspections included 39 plumbing, 12 sewage, five nuisances and eight refuse and took nine water samples. He also attended the plumbing inspectors seminar in Columbus for four days and brought back new state plumbing laws but the board took no official action on changing its present county laws.

The report of Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse, showed 89 cases of mumps, two scarlet fever and one venereal disease. She gave eight immunizations and two vaccinations, made 11 home and six doctor office visits, attended two educational meetings and held eight consultations with school nurses. She is presently on sick leave and has been succeeded by Mr Edwin Kauffman.

The County Tuberculosis Control Clinic said it had three hospital admissions and two discharges during the month. The clinic took 121 X-rays, reported one new case, started four new patients on medication and gave 168 Mantoux TB tests. Eleven patients remain in hospitals for total of 327 hospital days at county expense. The county has 148 patients on medication.

Bills of $3,896 were ordered paid. Next meeting will be March 16 at 8 p.m. in the library.

Lisbon School Board Names Kent Trustees

LISBON — Mrs. Gregg Ramsey and John Peterson have been appointed by the Lisbon Board of Education to the area Board of Trustees of Kent State University's Salem Academic Center, according to Supt. Oliver Payne.

Mrs. Ramsey will serve two years and Peterson one.

He also announced that Lisbon schools will be closed Friday for the workshop to be held in Leetonia for Lisbon, Wellsville, Columbiana, East Palestine and Leetonia teachers.

Lisbon classes will be released 45 minutes early next Monday, March 23 and April 20 when the entire faculty will discuss improvements of education in the system.

Spring vacation will be observed March 26-30, Payne said.

A special course for adults, "Education for Survival," will be given at David Anderson High School each Tuesday from 7 to 9 p. m. March 10 through April 14. The course runs two hours each night for six weeks. There will be no tuition charge or other fees and it is open to every adult in the community. It will be taught by Richard Jones of the Lisbon faculty.

Topics will include fallout, effects of nuclear chemical - biological weapons, how to plan and build a home shelter, federal, state and local Civil Defense organizations, and emergency preparations for the family and individual.

Costello Wins Fight Against Deportation

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Costello, onetime reported czar of the New York rackets, says he's "pretty happy" about the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that he's not a deportable alien. "But," he adds, "I always was optimistic."

"Celebrate? No," he told a reporter Monday, a few hours after the court handed down its decision.

"I'm through, I'm through," he said, without indicating whether he referred to his legal battles with the federal government or his retirement from the underworld.

The 73 - year - old gambler-racketeer said he was "grateful to the great American Supreme Court" that halted government moves to send him back to his native Italy.

"I always thought myself an American, and I am," he added.

The court decision showed that his gambler's luck was still going strong.

The government had sought deportation on the ground that Costello was an alien twice convicted of crimes.

28 Races Set For Precinct Political Jobs

The Jefferson County Election Board in Steubenville has posted the list of Democratic and Republican candidates for precinct committee posts following Saturday's deadline for withdrawals.

The parties will elect one central committeeman in each of the 90 precincts in the May 5 primary. The GOP shows only eight races. The Democrats have 20.

Here are the candidates for the precincts in Northern Jefferson County:

REPUBLICAN

Empire — Margaret Rudder; Irondale — Warren Close and Charles Hoobler; Brush Creek—Charles Sprouse; Grant District—Grace Carlisle; New Somerset—Virgil Palmer, and Port Homer—Betty Stephen.

The board indicated that Walter L. Myers of Wintersville, chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, will make an appointment to the Saline Township post, left vacant by the death Saturday of George M. Cronin of Hammondsville, the incumbent who was unopposed.

Democratic

Empire — James Desper and Clarence Martin; Irondale — Frank Scarabino; Stratton — John Abdalla; Brush Creek—Mary Gruszecki; Port Homer—Wesley Glenn; Saline (Hammondsville) — Ernest Lawrence, and Grant — Ray Skinner. No candidate filed at New Somerset.

Donald E. Kabana of Steubenville withdrew as a Democratic candidate for sheriff, the board said.

Industrial Relations Unit Report Awaited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Industrial Relations Director William O. Walker and members of his staff were scheduled to report to the Finance Department today on how economy measures are shaping up in Walker's department.

The Little Hoover Commission, which recently reviewed state agencies and suggested ways to operate them more economically and efficiently, said the Industrial Relations Department could save about $700,000 annually.

About 450,000 Americans receive blood transfusions each month, and transfusions in the United States total about five and one - half million per year.

mill, Broderick said it is different than anything in use today in the steel industry. He said the initial cost of the unit is $14 million.

The Toronto plant launched titanium production in 1957. Previously it was a regular steel mill. The metal is derived from the black sands of Australia, with the ore reduction plant at Henderson, Nev. The ingots are shipped to Toronto for mill processing.

Precise temperature control and instrumentation are required to work with the metal because of its qualities of picking up impurities, such as oxygen or other gases, from the air, Broderick explained.

Old "hand mills" used 50 years ago in steel mills still are used to produce the sheet titanium. The metal is placed between two sheets of steel, welded together, and drawn back and forth until the proper gauge is reached. The outside steel shell is then scrapped, the speaker explained.

Broderick said much of the steel is used in construction of airplanes and jet engines. It was used in the Mercury capsule, for the fuel bottles of the Atlas missile and the secondary stage of the Minute Man rocket is entirely of titanium.

Titanium costs about four times as much as stainless steel, Broderick said, but pointed out the more durable aspects of the metal.

When the plant at Toronto was started, it was thought the maximum number of employes would be 350. There now are 700 on the payroll and more will be hired when the new strip mill is started. The annual payroll of the plant is $4¼ million, he said.

Broderick was introduced by John Bryer, retiring president of the Chamber, who commented briefly on the accomplishments of the past year. He thanked his Board of Directors and Atty. William Bush, secretary, for their work.

Bryer served as president two consecutive years.

The Rev. Arden Beck of the First Methodist Church gave the invocation and benediction.

'Ladies Night' Held

Newell Lions Hear District Head

An address by Orien C. Creek of Belmont, governor of District 29-L, highlighted the annual "Ladies Night" banquet of the Newell Lions Club Monday.

Forty attended at Piatt's Tea Room in Wellsville, and several guests were present besides the district governor.

Making his third official visit with the club, Creek, owner of the Highway Grill restaurant on State Route 2 between St. Marys and Parkersburg, declared he is "finding renewed interest, pride and mounting membership in his district."

He disclosed that District 29-L has climbed into first place among the four districts in West Virginia in membership, leading the second-place district by 20 members.

Creek plans to award pins and citations to those who enroll new members during a March campaign.

He announced the organization of two new clubs recently — at Idamay in Marion County, chartered with 28 members, and Cameron in Marshall County, chartered Feb. 8 with 38 members.

The district governor announced three dates for future activities, urging the Newell club to send as large a delegation to each.

They are the fall conference at Sistersville Elks Club Sept. 12, when the past international president will be speaker; the state convention May 22-24 at the Daniel Boone Hotel in Charleston, and the international convention July 8-11 at Toronto, Canada.

In concluding his address on "Your Lions Club," he spoke on the meaning of Lionism and its influence on personal lives of members.

Accompanied by his wife, the district governor was presented a gift of Homer Laughlin Chinaware, service for eight, by the club.

The presentation was made by Albert Logston, zone chairman, who was toastmaster and introduced guests. Creek presented West Virginia Centennial glasses to Thomas W. Miller, president, and Dick Smith, secretary.

Among guests were Walter Jordan, candidate for district governor, and Sayre Graham and Clayton Hobbs Jr. of the Chester club and wives; Tom Watson, president, and Ralph Cox, of the Belmont Club, and John D. Herron of the New Cumberland club and wife. Squire Herron is deputy district governor.

Jordan offered the invocation.

The $2,000 includes $1,700 for the survey team's wages at the rate of $2 an hour, plus $300 for travel expenses.

Council also approved a companion ordinance authorizing City Treasurer Bert A. Dawson to hire "not less than two nor more than four" persons to make the survey. Dawson is the general overseer of the tax office, but Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson is in direct charge.

Wilkinson told Council in a letter he hopes to get the survey under way by March 1. When requesting the appropriation for the job, he said no citywide survey has been made since the first city tax was enacted in 1958.

The appropriation ordinance also provides $4,410 for the street department. It includes $410 for repair of the mechanical street sweeper, $2,000 as the expense of hauling ashes from the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and $2,000 to build up a stockpile of slag for the summer street program.

Driver Forfeits $118 In Hancock

NEW CUMBERLAND — Harry G. Loy, 22, of Porter Falls, forfeited $118 appearance bond Monday before Squire John D. Herron on charges of reckless driving and driving without an operator's license.

He was cited Saturday by Police Chief William Webster.

Paul B. Grace, 30, of Weirton was fined $20 and costs on charges of improper passing and lack of registration in his possession. He was cited by Hancock County sheriff's deputies.

Trial Slated Thursday In Salineville Mishap

SALINEVILLE — Dennis Beadnell, 22, of Bloomingdale R. D. 1 is scheduled to appear Thursday before Mayor Stanley Fitch on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way filed after a crash Sunday at 2:35 p. m. on E. Main St. that involved his auto and another driven by Donald A. Goddard, 21, of R. D. 2.

Beadnell was cited by Police Chief Roy Lewis. Beadnell's mother, Mrs. Charles Beadnell, was admitted to a Steubenville hospital with injuries of the neck, collarbone and head. Total damage was estimated at $200.

Palestine Eyes Grant In Utilities Extension

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night approved plans for seeking a federal grant for the extension of water and sewer facilities into the recently annexed areas in the north and northeast area of the city.

A survey is being made by Floyd G. Browne Associates of Marion to determine the need and cost of the extended lines and possible new lines in the main area of the city.

Pay Hike

2 per cent hikes — the first after five years' service. The proposal calls for a 4 per cent hike after 10 years; 6 per cent after 15 years, 8 per cent after 20 years and 10 per cent after 25 years. All the percentage boosts would be computed on base pay.

The FOP asked designation of these holidays: Lincoln's Birthday, Washington's Birthday, Easter, Memorial Day, July 4th, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Veterans' Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas. At present, the men required to work on holidays receive no additional pay, the committee said.

The FOP was represented by Chief Americo Radeschi, Capt. Robert Pyle, Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice and Patrolmen Charles A. Winters, William A. Devon and Orin C. Smith.

The chief said current scales are: Patrolmen, $400 monthly; lieutenants, $435; captain, $445, and chief, $500. The last raise was granted in December 1962.

The second pay boost request was filed in a letter by John Trimboli of Youngstown, district representative of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes. The union represents workers in several city departments.

In addition to the 25 per cent hike, Local 677 asked:

City payment of all hospital and life insurance premiums. The city now pays for coverage for employes only — not dependents — at $5.75 monthly.

Ten paid holidays; a sick leave plan; increased vacation time.

A 26-cent wage differential between laborers and truck drivers. Laborers now draw $1.84 and truck drivers are paid $1.90.

Establishment of a "skilled laborer" category at a rate 15 cents an hour ahead of ordinary labor.

Hiring of employes to fill all jobs now vacant.

A separate 5-cent hourly increase for "Meter Maids".

Robert Kelly, parking meter repairman and a representative of the union, appeared before Council personally to present a proposed "working agreement" between the city and the union, asking Council's enactment.

The same agreement has been in effect several years as a pact between the mayor and the union. Kelly said the union sought to have Council approve the agreement so it would not be subject to renewal each time there is a change in the city administration.

The agreement recognizes the right of city employes to organize and bargain and sets up procedure for handling grievances and disciplinary problems. It also authorizes payroll deductions for union dues.

The proposed agreement was referred to the ordinance committee, with instructions to present it as legislation at the next meeting March 2.

In another employe matter, Council agreed to meet in caucus session March 2 with representatives of the International Association of Fire-Fighters to discuss legislation authorizing payroll deductions for a new credit union which city employes are organizing. The request for the caucus was passed to Council through Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

Joseph Burcham of W. 4th St., speaking from the audience, said he feels members of both the fire and police departments are entitled to wage increases. But he said the firemen's 56-hour week should be reduced via establishment of eight-hour shifts and additional firemen should be hired, if necessary.

He also declared that "members of the police department should be paid enough that they don't have to hold outside jobs." He cited the case of an officer who, he said, is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

"If a man works at the mill and holds an outside job, nobody says anything," Officer Smith replied. "Members of the police department have to live, too."

Rebels Oust Gabon Chief; Council Set

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (AP)—Military rebels overthrew Gabon's President Leon M'Ba in a midnight coup and formed a revolutionary council to govern that West African republic, rebel broadcasts from Libreville said today.

The fifth upheaval of 1964 among new African nations, this affected a former French colony of 440,000 population that is the home of Dr. Albert Schweitzer. Dr. Schweitzer for half a century has had a jungle hospital at Lambarene, 100 miles southeast of Libreville, the capital and chief Atlantic port.

There was no mention of bloodshed.

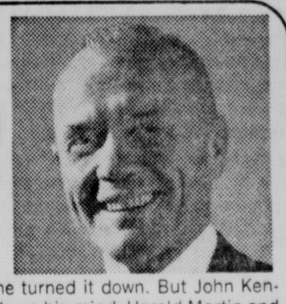

Accounts from Libreville indicated the coup was intended to end a power struggle between President M'Ba, 62 and his chief political rival, J.H. Aubame, who has been both a National Assemblyman and chief justice of the Supreme Court.

The election of a new assembly was due next Sunday.

Fuel line freeze-up can stop you cold!

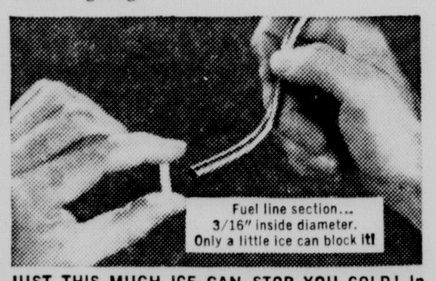

Use Boron with Ice-gard

for positive protection against fuel line freeze-up in any Ohio weather

When you get fuel line freeze-up, you're stuck! Your car will not run! Chances are you're in for a costly tow truck trip. And then you'll probably have to wait... and wait for your fuel line to thaw out in a heated garage!

You can prevent this serious winter driving problem by using Boron Gasoline with its special Ice-gard ingredient. Your very first tankful of Boron with Ice-gard protects you against a frozen fuel line. And continuous use gives you positive, winter-long protection against fuel line freeze-up!

For years, drivers have protected themselves against fuel line freeze-up by buying fuel line anti-icers and adding them to their gasoline. Regular use of Boron with Ice-gard makes this unnecessary! Ice-gard is already in Boron so you are protected automatically against fuel line freeze-up! And you get this extra protection at no extra cost!

Fuel line section... 3/16" inside diameter. Only a little ice can block it!

JUST THIS MUCH ICE CAN STOP YOU COLD! In freezing weather, water condensed from the air in your gas tank can settle in a low point of your fuel line and freeze solid. Gasoline can't get to your engine! You stop cold! The special Ice-gard ingredient in Boron keeps water from freezing. Ice can't form; Boron with Ice-gard flows freely!

Boron with Ice-gard eliminates the need to add anti-icers to your gasoline!

mill, Broderick said it is different than anything in use today in the steel industry. He said the initial cost of the unit is $14 million.

The Toronto plant launched titanium production in 1957. Previously it was a regular steel mill. The metal is derived from the black sands of Australia, with the ore reduction plant at Henderson, Nev. The ingots are shipped to Toronto for mill processing.

Precise temperature control and instrumentation are required to work with the metal because of its qualities of picking up impurities, such as oxygen or other gases, from the air, Broderick explained.

Old "hand mills" used 50 years ago in steel mills still are used to produce the sheet titanium. The metal is placed between two sheets of steel, welded together, and drawn back and forth until the proper gauge is reached. The outside steel shell is then scrapped, the speaker explained.

Broderick said much of the steel is used in construction of airplanes and jet engines. It was used in the Mercury capsule, for the fuel bottles of the Atlas missile and the secondary stage of the Minute Man rocket is entirely of titanium.

Titanium costs about four times as much as stainless steel, Broderick said, but pointed out the more durable aspects of the metal.

When the plant at Toronto was started, it was thought the maximum number of employes would be 350. There now are 700 on the payroll and more will be hired when the new strip mill is started. The annual payroll of the plant is $4¼ million, he said.

Broderick was introduced by John Bryer, retiring president of the Chamber, who commented briefly on the accomplishments of the past year. He thanked his Board of Directors and Atty. William Bush, secretary, for their work.

Bryer served as president two consecutive years.

Newell Lions Hear District Head

We Remember The Torpedoes

Eighty-year-old Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., has made a promise to himself as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

He has promised he will close out his career by leading the congressional fight for a new manned bomber for the Air Force. This puts him at odds with Secretary of Defense McNamara. It puts him into the fight over the reliability of missiles.

In respect for Rep. Vinson's age, his wisdom and long experience as a foremost expert on defense issues, no one is underestimating the effect he can have as a participant in the missile fight. Occasionally, a member of Congress achieves such distinction his authority is recognized even by his political opponents. Rep. Vinson enjoys this distinction.

While he is waging his battle, many of us will remember the torpedoes of World War II. These were the indispensable weapons of naval warfare. The United States had been developing torpedoes for generations — ever since the advent of well-propelled torpedoes in the Civil War era. It presumably knew everything there was to know about torpedoes.

Yet, when World War II was being fought and the United States was living under the threat of torpedo warfare in both great oceans, U.S. submarine commanders began to learn about the "unreliability" of U.S. missiles.

This is what the issue of missile reliability boils down to now. No one knows for certain how reliable the new long-range intercontinental missiles will be. They have never been fired under combat conditions. With the exception of one test in the Pacific, their nuclear warheads have not been tested. No one can foretell how many might be inert, how many might misfire, how many might go astray.

To say such things does not signify lack of patriotism — only retention of judgment about the probabilities of failure when men and machines are put to the test in combat.

'Fasten Your Belts'

"Fasten your safety belts" has become even more important as a safety factor as the result of another car plunge down an embankment off Dresden Ave.

It's seldom that a driver emerges from a 100-foot tumble with apparently only minor injuries. Steve Dallis of W. 6th St. did — and he credits his good fortune to the use of the car's safety belt.

A practical demonstration such as this means more than thousands of words. A safety belt is just that—extra safety. If your car has one, use it. If it doesn't, have one installed.

The Dallis accident also again calls attention to the danger that exists on the Dresden Ave. curve near Trentvale St. when the pavement is slippery. This is not the first time a mishap has occurred at the spot in cold weather. Water seeping down from the adjacent slopes time and again has made the stretch treacherous and has caught many an unsuspecting driver off guard.

Extra caution is needed on the part of motorists and constant ashing is in order on the part of the city.

Though the freeway has eliminated much of the traffic which previously traveled the road, there are still enough area drivers using it to call for added precautions.

Showdown On Automation

The executive council of the AFL-CIO meets at Bel Harbour, Fla. this week.

The labor movement says Americans work too hard. AFL-CIO President George Meany gave the signal at the fifth biennial convention last November.

The Kennedy administration had resisted pressure for a shorter work week, insisting the nation needed full production. President Johnson made it clear soon after taking office he would follow the labor guidelines of his predecessor.

But in his draft bills sent to Congress on Jan. 30 he proposed to extend minimum wage and overtime pay protection to some two million workers not now covered. More importantly, he advocated double-time rates for overtime in some industries.

THE JOHNSON proposals have aroused a controversy. President Meany said they went "a long way" toward meeting labor's demands, but called again for overtime pay after 35 hours of work in any week. W. P. Gullander, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said that the plan would mean loss of income for 15 million persons now working more than 40 hours a week and higher costs for employers.

This year's bargaining sessions promise to be stormy. Contracts covering two million workers expire. Contracts covering almost two million more can be reopened on union demand.

Auto contracts expire in August. Negotiations between United Auto Workers and the Big Three, General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler, will come in the summer.

This month, negotiations are scheduled in the glass industry and in April Transport Workers talk with American Airlines. Pacific Coast papermakers deal with the Pulp and Sulphite Workers in May. Contracts are opening in meat packing, metal fabrication, machinery, longshoring, and construction.

A SHORTER work week is part of Big Labor's answer to automation, which has become a dirty word to union leaders.

The case was stated graphically in recent testimony before a Senate Labor subcommittee by Albert J. Hayes, president of the International Association of Machists:

"Despite earlier assumptions that automation would create more jobs than it would destroy, experience indicates it is actually destroying about five jobs for every position it creates. According to the most conservative estimates, 200,000 factory jobs are now being lost to automation every year."

'Like Little Kids'

"They looked like little kids." That was Squire Herron's comment in referring to six teen-agers who figured in another episode of the sale of beer and whisky to minors in Hancock County.

As said before, some people can shrug off gambling where only adults are involved, but it's difficult to shrug off illegal sales of alcoholic beverages where teen-agers are involved.

Fines aren't enough in such cases. Closing of the places of business of those who violate the law would be more in order until assurance is offered that they are ready to operate properly.

It's generally fairly painless to pay fines of this nature, but it's not so easy to remain in business when the business is padlocked from time to time as violations take place.

There's no defense for a tavern which permits the sale of alcohol beverages to minors, be it in Hancock County, Columbiana County or anywhere else.

Beatle War

By Truman Twill

Don't hit us, teen-agers. We'll shuffle along and keep our mouths shut.

In the war of the generations, we're licked — we gaffers. Teen-agers have more bounce and pounce. Time is on your side.

Those four young Englishmen with the Camelot haircuts aren't worth a war. And that's what this has turned into.

It's as if you teen-agers had been waiting for an excuse to go for the older generation's jugular and the Beatles provided it.

Inevitably, the gaffer group would stop, look, listen and tee off on them. It would be the same as it was whan adult fuddy-duddies of Hamelin teed off on the Pied Piper.

So the children of Hamelin marched through a door in Koppelberg Mountain and disappeared. That was the legend.

What really happened was that the children liked the Pied Piper better than they liked their parents, who had been giving the PP a hard time. To show their contempt for the dying generation, the upcoming generation staged a demonstration.

WE NEVER LEARN, we gaffers.

We once went through the same zestful experience of kicking Momma, Poppa, Aunt Edith and Uncle Elmer in the teeth, to show we were coming into our own, but we keep taking indefensible positions.

The Beatles belong to teen-agers, not to middle-agers. We middle-agers have no right to sit in judgment on them or their followers.

Koppelburg Mountain and its open door are always there if we get too crusty.

There is the risk of losing not only the war, but the children of Hamelin, too.

It is a mistake for anyone over 21 to disparage the Beatles.

This war between the generations is a ferocious thing, not to be fooled with carelessly.

War?

What else could it be called, when one faction keeps picking on the other.

WHAT DO middle-agers expect teen-agers to do — play dead until they have grown old and set in their ways — full of good advice, good intentions, good judgment and lousy psychology?

The way to let the jelly beans out of the Beatles, if it had been worth doing, would have been for middle-agers to have feigned disdain, to assert their independence. Asserting independence is the most important thing there is to teen-agers.

Don't hit us again! And don't march into Koppelberg Mountain over the Beatles. The war between the generations, like the war between men and women, isn't worth fighting. No one ever wins. Both sides lose, but especially ours.

Soviets Are On Lookout For Nossenko

By Victor Riesel

Soviet security police agents who work undercover as members of the Communist bloc diplomatic missions to this capital and the U.N. are searching for the latest defector, Yuri I. Nossenko, who was more than a KGB staff officer when he took a taxi out of Geneva and simply drove across the French border. Nossenko was a "Control Commission" member assigned to ride herd on the U.S.S.R. delegation to the disarmament conference. He had special orders to prevent any of them from defecting to the West.

Victor Riesel

The Soviet's triggermen are under orders to kidnap Nossenko if possible and to kill him, if not. If they should succeed in destroying the former KGB officer, it would not be the first time they have murdered an erstwhile comrade in the United States in an effort to protect their network of more than 1,000 military, scientific and industrial spies in this country.

This figure is based on an estimate made recently by FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, who in turn based his estimate on reports made by previous defectors.

TYPICAL of the daring Soviet counter-espionage police operations inside the U.S. is the strange "accident" which befell Reino Hayhanen, a former KGB lieutenant colonel. Back in the spring of 1957 Col. Hayhanen was ordered back to Moscow from a foreign assignment. He suspected he would be liquidated on his return home. Instead of flying to Russia he went to Paris, walked into the U.S. Embassy and asked for asylum.

Hayhanen was rushed to the United States. In New York he located the studio of Russian master spy Rudolph Ivanovich Abel. It was in that studio that Abel processed secret documents by photographing them and reducing the papers to the size of pin heads—a process called micro-spotting.

Abel did not know Hayhanen had defected and worked with him until he was arrested by the FBI in the Hotel Latham. The defector's testimony at a dramatic trial got Abel a 30-year sentence. Later Abel was exchanged for U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Not too long ago Hayhanen was killed in a mysterious auto crash on a U.S. Turnpike which intelligence sources believe was the work of the KGB itself.

The Soviet State Security Police special murder unit operates like the Mafia—and sometimes has hired underworld thugs.

THE KILLING of a defector is a warning to others not to quit and talk. Otherwise it might be difficult to keep their large number of agents in line in such nations as the United States. Fully 80 per cent of Soviet bloc diplomats and their dependents are trained for espionage and have special assignments in our country.

J. Edgar Hoover reported recently that, as of Nov. 1, 1963, there were 484 Soviet Officials stationed in Diplomatic missions in the United States, many of whom are not diplomats but professionally trained engineers and scientists. They had with them 515 dependents, a great number of whom Mr. Hoover regarded as potential espionage agents.

This hardly is the full accounting. Soviet spying is coordinated with the intelligence systems of satellite nations. FBI investigations disclose that Soviet block army, navy and air attaches of Eastern European embassies meet regularly in New York and Washington under Soviet direction.

This almost doubles the Soviet intelligence potential, for there are 407 satellite diplomatic personnel and their 540 dependents.

Furthermore, since 1924 the Russians have been spying on our secret industrial defense production system from a base inside a Soviet commercial agency called the Amtorg Trading Corp. It is located on the 19th floor of a New York Skyscraper at 355 Lexington Ave.

LAST OCTOBER, one of its so-called chauffeurs using the name of Igor Ivanov was arrested by the FBI and charged with participation in a plot to steal the secrets of our military global electronic communications systems.

"Based on our investigations," Mr. Hoover wrote in a recent publication, "we know that Amtorg, staffed by Soviet intellitence agents, is a seedbed of espionage. Prior to diplomatic recognition of the Soviet Union in 1933 and the opening of the Soviet Embassy, it served as the chief base of Russian spy operations in the United States."

There are other KGB assignments in the United States. One of these is a directive to recruit young Americans, plant them in sensitive U.S. government agencies and thus siphon off defense secrets. One such KGB agent, camouflaged as a member of the U.N. secretariat, was Vadim A. Kirilyuk. His task was to infiltrate U.S. security agencies handling codes and cryptography. The FBI nabbed him in the act of attempting to bribe a young American. The Russian was ordered out of the country. Others took his place.

No one knows who tipped the FBI but we do know that Soviet defectors have contacted Mr. Hoover over the years. The KGB wants to dry up the stream of defectors. They'll kill if necessary. That's why they're looking for Yuri Nossenko.

Crucial Decision

By David Lawrence

Should U.S. Forget About Partnership?

Isolationism rather than internationalism seems to have emerged as the basis for national policy in Great Britain and France, respectively, as well as in some of the smaller countries of Europe.

David Lawrence

The United States, for many years the practitioner of isolationism, now faces a crucial decision—whether to continue to pour out billions to other countries in the world, or to copy both France and Britain and give priority to the interests of the United States as a single power rather than as a partner.

The phrase Western Alliance has a hollow sound today. The United Nations, moreover, as the theoretical savior of national sovereignties, now is almost bankrupt, financially as well as morally.

In the face of this situation, it would not be surprising if the American people were asked to debate in the coming presidential campaign whether they favor letting billions of dollars of their tax money continue to flow all around the world, and whether they wish to maintain standing armies in Europe indefinitely.

More than 120 Americans have been killed in Viet Nam. American Marines suddenly were ordered a few days ago to be ready, if necessary, to fight in Cyprus, but mostly to help the British out of a dilemma there.

The Chinese Communists are getting a stronger hold in Southeast Asia as well as in Africa, primarily because Great Britain, the United States and France do not stand together.

THE BIGGEST SHOCK in diplomacy that the United States has experienced for a long time came last Wednesday after the President of the United States and the British prime minister had conferred for two days amid much social entertainment. They isssued a carefully worded communique which implied that the two governments, while having differences of opinion, were nevertheless closely knit in friendship and partnership.

The reporters had had this communique in their hands only a few minutes when they went to the British Embassy for a news conference at which the prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, announced that Great Britain would not only continue its transactions with Castro in Cuba for trucks and other items of trade, but would also arrange government guarantees of long-term credits for private companies in their business dealings with the Soviet Union.

This action was a humiliating experience for the American government, because, when sharp differences in policy like this happen, there is usually at least a wait of a few days until the visiting dignitary gets home and announces his policies, presumably after consultation with his associates.

THE IMPRESSION here, however, is that the British government had made up its mind beforehand to ignore American protests about trading with Cuba and had decided to go ahead with its policy of financing economic recovery in the Soviet Union.

In fact, negotiations for a $266-million deal were going on in London between British firms and Soviet Emissaries while President Johnson and Sir Alec Douglas-Home were meeting in Washington.

The British are planning to build chemical plants in Russia which could indirectly be helpful to a war economy. Another $280-million deal to erect more factories in Russia now is under discussion in London.

The prime minister perceived that there was opposition in the United States to the British minister's statement, is that policy, and while in Washington explained that the British believe that "comfortable" Communists are less dangerous than hungry ones. After several days of polite and perfunctory statements, Secretary of State Rusk finally said in a statement broadcast overseas by the Voice of America.

"I think the principal problem we see in that (the prime minister's statement is that we cannot guarantee that the Communists will use the resources that are available to them to make themselves comfortable and fat. They may keep themselves lean and use the resources available to them for armaments, and for the support of subversive activities in other countries, and for pursuing the objectives of the world revolution."

SECRETARY RUSK hinted that the American people might decide to boycott some of the British firms which sell goods here if those same firms continue to help the Soviet Union. Concurrently, the leaders of the Maritime Unions of the AFL-CIO denounced the sale of American wheat to Russia and called on President Johnson to halt what they termed a "dangerous program." The AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department adopted a resolution urging the 29 unions to obey an order to refuse to load wheat on ships destined for the Soviet Union.

The deal by which the United States sold wheat to the Soviets was unmoral on its face, but it was supposed to offer an economic benefit to our farm states.

The British and French were quick to take advantage of the readiness of the United States to sell wheat to the Soviet Union. They, along with Spain, Italy, Belgium and Sweden, are shipping goods to Cuba.

It's everybody for himself. Certainly the time is at hand for an "agonizing reappraisal" of foreign policy as a whole by the American people.

Fairer Representation

By James Marlow

The Supreme Court has decided to cure a kind of national paralysis in which politicians wouldn't budge to give fairer representation in Congress and state legislatures.

For years the court was too timorous to do this. It said it didn't want to butt into the political field. It took its first big step two years ago, another Monday.

First it tangled with state legislatures and now with Congress. Congressional districts, like state legislatures' districts, have been lopsided for generations.

One district with 500,000 people might have only one representative in Congress, or a state legislature, while another with only half that many people might have just as much representation.

This has worked to the advantage of the rural population, to the disadvantage of the growing cities.

Forty state constitutions required regular redistricting every 10 years or oftener to give voters in all sections more equal representation. But for generations some state legislatures ignored their own constitutions.

Congress has looked the other way on this question of equal representation in districts electing members of the House. The Senate is not involved. Every state, big or small, is entitled to two senators.

Does a court have the right to interfere with the way Congress or a legislature provides for election of its members? State and federal courts skipped around the edges of this for years.

Then Monday the court said congressional districts in the states — it was just talking of Georgia but the ruling applies generally—must be arranged to give "equal representation for equal numbers of people" so far as practicable.

The court has set down no exact measuring stick for populations in a district. It said districting must be fair by population. It relied on the Constitution for its authority, of course, citing those sections which speak of apportionment by numbers and give protections to citizens' rights.

Now Congress at last may try not only to set up standards for districts but for congressional enforcement of the standards. If state legislatures balked, citizens could sue in federal courts.

The court, through injunction, could forbid congressional elections by districts in states guilty of malapportioned districts and order candidates for Congress to run at large until there was redistricting.

We Remember The Torpedoes

Eighty-year-old Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., has made a promise to himself as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

He has promised he will close out his career by leading the congressional fight for a new manned bomber for the Air Force. This puts him at odds with Secretary of Defense McNamara. It puts him into the fight over the reliability of missiles.

In respect for Rep. Vinson's age, his wisdom and long experience as a foremost expert on defense issues, no one is underestimating the effect he can have as a participant in the missile fight. Occasionally, a member of Congress achieves such distinction his authority is recognized even by his political opponents. Rep. Vinson enjoys this distinction.

While he is waging his battle, many of us will remember the torpedoes of World War II. These were the indispensable weapons of naval warfare. The United States had been developing torpedoes for generations — ever since the advent of well-propelled torpedoes in the Civil War era. It presumably knew everything there was to know about torpedoes.

Yet, when World War II was being fought and the United States was living under the threat of torpedo warfare in both great oceans, U.S. submarine commanders began to learn about the "unreliability" of U.S. missiles.

This is what the issue of missile reliability boils down to now. No one knows for certain how reliable the new long-range intercontinental missiles will be. They have never been fired under combat conditions. With the exception of one test in the Pacific, their nuclear warheads have not been tested. No one can foretell how many might be inert, how many might misfire, how many might go astray.

To say such things does not signify lack of patriotism — only retention of judgment about the probabilities of failure when men and machines are put to the test in combat.

'Fasten Your Belts'

"Fasten your safety belts" has become even more important as a safety factor as the result of another car plunge down an embankment off Dresden Ave.

It's seldom that a driver emerges from a 100-foot tumble with apparently only minor injuries. Steve Dallis of W. 6th St. did — and he credits his good fortune to the use of the car's safety belt.

A practical demonstration such as this means more than thousands of words. A safety belt is just that—extra safety. If your car has one, use it. If it doesn't, have one installed.

The Dallis accident also again calls attention to the danger that exists on the Dresden Ave. curve near Trentvale St. when the pavement is slippery. This is not the first time a mishap has occurred at the spot in cold weather. Water seeping down from the adjacent slopes time and again has made the stretch treacherous and has caught many an unsuspecting driver off guard.

Extra caution is needed on the part of motorists and constant ashing is in order on the part of the city.

Though the freeway has eliminated much of the traffic which previously traveled the road, there are still enough area drivers using it to call for added precautions.

Showdown On Automation

The executive council of the AFL-CIO meets at Bel Harbour, Fla. this week.

The labor movement says Americans work too hard. AFL-CIO President George Meany gave the signal at the fifth biennial convention last November.

The Kennedy administration had resisted pressure for a shorter work week, insisting the nation needed full production. President Johnson made it clear soon after taking office he would follow the labor guidelines of his predecessor.

But in his draft bills sent to Congress on Jan. 30 he proposed to extend minimum wage and overtime pay protection to some two million workers not now covered. More importantly, he advocated double-time rates for overtime in some industries.

THE JOHNSON proposals have aroused a controversy. President Meany said they went "a long way" toward meeting labor's demands, but called again for overtime pay after 35 hours of work in any week. W. P. Gullander, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said that the plan would mean loss of income for 15 million persons now working more than 40 hours a week and higher costs for employers.

This year's bargaining sessions promise to be stormy. Contracts covering two million workers expire. Contracts covering almost two million more can be reopened on union demand.

Auto contracts expire in August. Negotiations between United Auto Workers and the Big Three, General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler, will come in the summer.

This month, negotiations are scheduled in the glass industry and in April Transport Workers talk with American Airlines. Pacific Coast papermakers deal with the Pulp and Sulphite Workers in May. Contracts are opening in meat packing, metal fabrication, machinery, longshoring, and construction.

A SHORTER work week is part of Big Labor's answer to automation, which has become a dirty word to union leaders.

The case was stated graphically in recent testimony before a Senate Labor subcommittee by Albert J. Hayes, president of the International Association of Machists:

"Despite earlier assumptions that automation would create more jobs than it would destroy, experience indicates it is actually destroying about five jobs for every position it creates. According to the most conservative estimates, 200,000 factory jobs are now being lost to automation every year."

'Like Little Kids'

"They looked like little kids." That was Squire Herron's comment in referring to six teen-agers who figured in another episode of the sale of beer and whisky to minors in Hancock County.

As said before, some people can shrug off gambling where only adults are involved, but it's difficult to shrug off illegal sales of alcoholic beverages where teen-agers are involved.

Fines aren't enough in such cases. Closing of the places of business of those who violate the law would be more in order until assurance is offered that they are ready to operate properly.

It's generally fairly painless to pay fines of this nature, but it's not so easy to remain in business when the business is padlocked from time to time as violations take place.

There's no defense for a tavern which permits the sale of alcohol beverages to minors, be it in Hancock County, Columbiana County or anywhere else.

In fact, negotiations for a $266-million deal were going on in London between British firms and Soviet Emissaries while President Johnson and Sir Alec Douglas-Home were meeting in Washington.

The British are planning to build chemical plants in Russia which could indirectly be helpful to a war economy. Another $280-million deal to erect more factories in Russia now is under discussion in London.

The prime minister perceived that there was opposition in the United States to the British minister's statement, is that policy, and while in Washington explained that the British believe that "comfortable" Communists are less dangerous than hungry ones. After several days of polite and perfunctory statements, Secretary of State Rusk finally said in a statement broadcast overseas by the Voice of America.

"I think the principal problem we see in that (the prime minister's statement is that we cannot guarantee that the Communists will use the resources that are available to them to make themselves comfortable and fat. They may keep themselves lean and use the resources available to them for armaments, and for the support of subversive activities in other countries, and for pursuing the objectives of the world revolution."

SECRETARY RUSK hinted that the American people might decide to boycott some of the British firms which sell goods here if those same firms continue to help the Soviet Union. Concurrently, the leaders of the Maritime Unions of the AFL-CIO denounced the sale of American wheat to Russia and called on President Johnson to halt what they termed a "dangerous program." The AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department adopted a resolution urging the 29 unions to obey an order to refuse to load wheat on ships destined for the Soviet Union.

The deal by which the United States sold wheat to the Soviets was unmoral on its face, but it was supposed to offer an economic benefit to our farm states.

The British and French were quick to take advantage of the readiness of the United States to sell wheat to the Soviet Union. They, along with Spain, Italy, Belgium and Sweden, are shipping goods to Cuba.

It's everybody for himself. Certainly the time is at hand for an "agonizing reappraisal" of foreign policy as a whole by the American people.

Fairer Representation

By James Marlow

The Supreme Court has decided to cure a kind of national paralysis in which politicians wouldn't budge to give fairer representation in Congress and state legislatures.

For years the court was too timorous to do this. It said it didn't want to butt into the political field. It took its first big step two years ago, another Monday.

First it tangled with state legislatures and now with Congress. Congressional districts, like state legislatures' districts, have been lopsided for generations.

One district with 500,000 people might have only one representative in Congress, or a state legislature, while another with only half that many people might have just as much representation.

This has worked to the advantage of the rural population, to the disadvantage of the growing cities.

Forty state constitutions required regular redistricting every 10 years or oftener to give voters in all sections more equal representation. But for generations some state legislatures ignored their own constitutions.

Congress has looked the other way on this question of equal representation in districts electing members of the House. The Senate is not involved. Every state, big or small, is entitled to two senators.

Does a court have the right to interfere with the way Congress or a legislature provides for election of its members? State and federal courts skipped around the edges of this for years.

Then Monday the court said congressional districts in the states — it was just talking of Georgia but the ruling applies generally—must be arranged to give "equal representation for equal numbers of people" so far as practicable.

The court has set down no exact measuring stick for populations in a district. It said districting must be fair by population. It relied on the Constitution for its authority, of course, citing those sections which speak of apportionment by numbers and give protections to citizens' rights.

Now Congress at last may try not only to set up standards for districts but for congressional enforcement of the standards. If state legislatures balked, citizens could sue in federal courts.

The court, through injunction, could forbid congressional elections by districts in states guilty of malapportioned districts and order candidates for Congress to run at large until there was redistricting.

First Aid Instruction Given Firemen At Calcutta Session

Paul Knox, first aid instructor, demonstrated the use of splints for a first aid lesson when Calcutta volunteer firemen met Monday night at the station.

Firemen practiced application of splints for simple and compound fractures, and Knox advised the group to be sure and determine the extent of an injury before moving an injured person.

He presented cards to firemen who completed a standard course of instruction in first aid. Plans are being made for an advanced course in the future.

Firemen approved a fund-drive letter. About 1,000 letters asking contributions are to be mailed to homes and businesses in the area served by the department. The letters will also contain a copy of the department financial statement and will be mailed in early March.

The books of Clarence Dick, treasurer, have been approved by the Board of Trustees.

Chief Laverne Seckman reported the department responded to five fire alarms this year, the latest Monday afternoon at 5 at a dragline strip mine shovel near Grimms Bridge. Dry powder chemicals were used to extinguish the burning oil and grease, and no estimate was made of the damage.

Dale Horger, president, announced the Tri - State Fireman's Association will meet Feb. 27 at the Glenmoor fire hall.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—Is there any way, without actually cutting it, of shortening the electric cord on a lamp? This cord is always getting in our way.

A. If the base of the lamp is of the concave type, you can cut down the length of your cord very easily and neatly by pulling the excess cord inside the base and taping it there in flat loops. Besides effecting a neater appearance, the hidden loops can be quickly unwound, should the lamp be moved to another location requiring a longer cord.

Q.—What is the best procedure when mixing one's own cement?

A. Mix the dry ingredients first — portland cement, sand, gravel — in the correct proportions. Then, when thoroughly mixed, add the water.

insanity — the assertion that he suffers from "psychomotor epilepsy," and that grief over Kennedy's death shocked him into an emotional state during which, unwittingly, he killed Oswald.

"This defendant does not have the mental capacity to stand trial," Belli said Monday when he moved for a directed verdict of acquittal.

Judge Brown overruled the motion.

A man carrying a loaded 32 - caliber pistol was arrested in the district attorney's office, next door to the courthouse, during the luncheon recess. Sheriff Bill Decker identified him as David Conrad Glass, 39, of Beatty, Ore. He was held on a charge of illegally carrying a weapon.

Decker said Glass "talked incoherently" about the assassination of Kennedy.

Glass mumbled about the slaying of Oswald by Ruby, but Decker said he does not believe Glass intended to shoot Ruby. "I think Glass needs a psychiatric examination," Decker said. "His answers didn't make sense."

Largest Boys' Camp Operated By Scouts

CIMARRON, N. M. (AP) — The world's largest boys' camp is operated by the Boy Scouts of America near Cimarron, N.M. It includes 137,000 acres of range and mountain land, providing summer adventure for older Scouts and Explorers. Its name is Philmont Scout Ranch.

In addition to training for Boy Scouts, and training for volunteer leaders, Philmont is a working ranch said to have the largest remuda of saddle horses in New Mexico. Herds of buffalo graze on its range lands along with Hereford beef cattle.

On Turbulent Island

Britain, Cyprus OK Policing Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain and Cyprus are reported agreed on principles for a plan to police the turbulent Mediterranean island with an international force while an impartial mediator seeks peace between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The British-Cypriot plan also calls for a consultative committee of U.N. members.

The two nations reportedly agreed on general terms of a Security Council resolution after the council postponed the start of its debate on the Cyprus crisis until this afternoon.

The resolution would avoid the controversial issue of how the international force should be set up and would merely agree that there should be such a force.

It would also appeal to all countries to respect the territorial integrity of the island, an appeal which Cyprus had planned to propose in a separate resolution.

The council debate, scheduled to start Monday, was postponed after Secretary-General U Thant took a hand in the crisis with peace proposals of his own.

Thant's ideas were handed to representatives of Cyprus, Britain, Turkey, the United States and Greece in a memorandum which dealt with establishment of an international peace force for Cyprus and with machinery for mediating the conflict.

One objective was to find a formula that would be accepted by all parties concerned and thus avoid the risk of a Soviet veto. President Makarios of Cyprus has indicated he would accept no peace force unless it was under control of the Security Council.

Sources close to Thant said he thought agreement might be reached on a force linked to the United Nations but not directly under U.N. command. He was understood to be seeking accord also on an arrangement under which Britain, Turkey, Greece and Cyprus would finance the force.

Thant discussed his views with U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, who had come directly from a meeting with President Johnson in Washington. Ball later conferred with other U.N. diplomats before returning to Washington Monday night.

Conference Bids To End Rail Strike

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Labor and management confer today at the urging of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to see if they can end the violent Florida East Coast Railway strike.

Assistant Secretary James J. Reynolds, the Labor Department's top troubleshooter, was to meet with Ed Ball, board chairman of the railroad, and G.E. Leighty, chief negotiator for the 11 nonoperating unions on strike.

Wirtz sent Ball and Leighty identical telegrams.

"The dispute between the Florida East Coast Railway and the nonoperating brotherhoods is now in its 14th month. The losses suffered by the private interests involved are incalculable. The loss suffered by the public interest is intolerable.

"The recent bombings of this property are outrageous criminal acts.

"The interruption this past week of vital defense operations of Cape Kennedy, resulting from picketing, is a further insufferable price to the public," the telegrams read in part.

Picketing of Cape Kennedy began after the railroad started operations of a spur there. Work on millions of dollars in space projects was halted when construction workers honored the picket lines. Work was resumed after the National Labor Relations Board worked out a truce.

There have been more than 200 violent incidents during the strike. The most recent were dynamite bombings of freight trains in North Miami Beach and New Smyrna Beach.

The 1,300 members of the nonoperating unions employed by the railroad struck Jan. 23, 1963, after the railroad said it could not grant their request for 10.28 cent an hour raise.

The unions said they can't afford to settle for less than the national pattern of 10.22 cents added to hourly pay of $2.42. This was accepted by 190 Class I railroads in 1962 on the basis of a National Emergency Board recommendation.

The railroad has been operating with supervisory employes and trainees. It carries only freight.

U.S. Today Launches Operation Big Thrust

BERGSTROM AIR FORCE BASE, Tex., (AP)—Operation Big Thrust begins today, a modified version of the transatlantic exercise Big Lift that set new military transport records last October.

About 1,500 soldiers of the 2nd Armored Division at Ft. Hood will fly to Germany as replacement in the maneuver. The entire division went to Germany in around the clock flights last October to prove the United States' ability for quick international movement of combat ready troops.

Operation Big Thrust begins with 16 consecutive flights from Bergstrom, 8 miles southeast of Austin. They are scheduled to terminate at Rhein-Main, near er period, but the rates charged customers would be less.

No formal action was taken on the proposal.

It was indicated that the elimination of the proposed lateral sewers for the lutlying areas which are not now served by sewers for the outlaying areas the cost of the project to the original estimate of some $350-000.

Under this arrangement, the rates charged customers would be possibly 110 per cent of the water bill. Lemeier said it is possible the rates could be under 100 per cent.

Under tentative plans for the sewage plant project, bills would be collected monthly through the water office.

Discussion was also held on a proposal to refinance the present mortgage on the city's water works to include it in with the sewage project.

Also under consideration is financing of installation of water meters for the whole city in the project.

Todd was scheduled to advertise for bids on the project this month, but the proposals for financing have delayed action.

In last night's discussion, Councilman Donald Chaney opposed a change in the financing contract to extend the bonds to 40 years. Councilman Charles Kology indicated he favors the longer period if it means cheaper rates for customers.

A $105,000 federal grant has been authorized for the project. The plant is slated to be erected in a section of the City Park.

Council is expected to further discuss the financing at a meeting tonight.

Charlie Dees of the Los Angeles Angels was the best hitting first baseman in the American League last season. He batted .307 in 60 games. Joe Cunningham of the White Sox was second with .286.

Trucker Due To Testify In Lisbon Trial

LISBON — Vernon Hatcher of Quaker City, 28-year-old driver of a tractor-trailer truck involved in a Route 7 crash which claimed eight lives Oct. 2, was expected to testify today in his second degree manslaughter trial in Common Pleas Court.

The prosecution rested its case Monday afternoon after two Ohio Highway Patrolman gave testimony on the crash near Williamsport.

Patrolman Phil Wenner told how Hatcher's rig, loaded with three heavy steel coils, apparently began to sway on the downhill curve, and one of the coils slipped off the rig and hit one car then the rig crashed head-on into another.

Both officers said Hatcher's truck was left of the center line.

In defense testimony this morning, it was claimed Hatcher was not negligent, that the load on the rig shifted and he did everything possible to keep the truck under control.

A verdict is expected sometime Wednesday in the trial before Judge Raymond Buzzard.

Alley Closings Aired By St. Clair Trustees

Discussion on a proposed closing of some alleys in the vicinity of the Christian Church at Fredericktown was held with some church members at a meeting of the St. Clair Township trustees Monday night.

Church members seek to close some of the alleys which they say have not been used for many years. Trustees explained the members can circulate a petition and present it to county commissioners, who have the authority to take the closure action.

Trustees authorized slag for Glenn St. in Glenmoor. Bills totaling $2,200 were paid, largely slag expenses.

some thought to a possible successor.

Some members privately have said they feel the successor should be named from the four unsuccessful candidates last fall. In the order in which they finished, they were Richard Smith, Joseph G. Reed, William Blair Jr. and Harry L. Simpson.

Others have suggested the board consider one of the former members if a vacancy occurred.

Rumors concerning Heasley's inability to serve have been heard since the day following his election last November when he led a seven-man field for three posts.

In response to questions, he indicated he intended to serve out his term, commuting between East Liverpool and Ashtabula for the board meetings.

However, Heasley was able to attend only the organization meeting of the board on Jan. 6 when he along with Samuel R. Brown and John R. Woomer were sworn in. He was absent at the Jan. 27 and Feb 3 meetings.

in the vicinity of the roadblock in Toronto.

The officers had been attempting to serve warrants alleging felonious assault and assault and battery on Jurgens, but the sheriff's office was uncertain of who filed the complaint.

Jurgens was taken to Wellsville where he signed a waiver of extradition, and then was taken to Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland.

Jurgens was charged with reckless operation by Wellsville police. He posted a $33.70 bond, which he forfeited when he failed to appear for a hearing this morning before Mayor William Daugherty.

He was driving a 1963 model Chevrolet, the sheriff's office reported.

Largest Boys' Camp Operated By Scouts

CIMARRON, N. M. (AP) — The world's largest boys' camp is operated by the Boy Scouts of America near Cimarron, N.M. It includes 137,000 acres of range and mountain land, providing summer adventure for older Scouts and Explorers. Its name is Philmont Scout Ranch.

In addition to training for Boy Scouts, and training for volunteer leaders, Philmont is a working ranch said to have the largest remuda of saddle horses in New Mexico. Herds of buffalo graze on its range lands along with Hereford beef cattle.

insanity — the assertion that he suffers from "psychomotor epilepsy," and that grief over Kennedy's death shocked him into an emotional state during which, unwittingly, he killed Oswald.

"This defendant does not have the mental capacity to stand trial," Belli said Monday when he moved for a directed verdict of acquittal.

Judge Brown overruled the motion.

A man carrying a loaded 32 - caliber pistol was arrested in the district attorney's office, next door to the courthouse, during the luncheon recess. Sheriff Bill Decker identified him as David Conrad Glass, 39, of Beatty, Ore. He was held on a charge of illegally carrying a weapon.

Decker said Glass "talked incoherently" about the assassination of Kennedy.

Glass mumbled about the slaying of Oswald by Ruby, but Decker said he does not believe Glass intended to shoot Ruby. "I think Glass needs a psychiatric examination," Decker said. "His answers didn't make sense."

On Turbulent Island

Britain, Cyprus OK Policing Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain and Cyprus are reported agreed on principles for a plan to police the turbulent Mediterranean island with an international force while an impartial mediator seeks peace between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The British-Cypriot plan also calls for a consultative committee of U.N. members.

The two nations reportedly agreed on general terms of a Security Council resolution after the council postponed the start of its debate on the Cyprus crisis until this afternoon.

The resolution would avoid the controversial issue of how the international force should be set up and would merely agree that there should be such a force.

It would also appeal to all countries to respect the territorial integrity of the island, an appeal which Cyprus had planned to propose in a separate resolution.

The council debate, scheduled to start Monday, was postponed after Secretary-General U Thant took a hand in the crisis with peace proposals of his own.

Thant's ideas were handed to representatives of Cyprus, Britain, Turkey, the United States and Greece in a memorandum which dealt with establishment of an international peace force for Cyprus and with machinery for mediating the conflict.

One objective was to find a formula that would be accepted by all parties concerned and thus avoid the risk of a Soviet veto. President Makarios of Cyprus has indicated he would accept no peace force unless it was under control of the Security Council.

Sources close to Thant said he thought agreement might be reached on a force linked to the United Nations but not directly under U.N. command. He was understood to be seeking accord also on an arrangement under which Britain, Turkey, Greece and Cyprus would finance the force.

Thant discussed his views with U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, who had come directly from a meeting with President Johnson in Washington. Ball later conferred with other U.N. diplomats before returning to Washington Monday night.

Conference Bids To End Rail Strike

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Labor and management confer today at the urging of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to see if they can end the violent Florida East Coast Railway strike.

Assistant Secretary James J. Reynolds, the Labor Department's top troubleshooter, was to meet with Ed Ball, board chairman of the railroad, and G.E. Leighty, chief negotiator for the 11 nonoperating unions on strike.

Wirtz sent Ball and Leighty identical telegrams.

"The dispute between the Florida East Coast Railway and the nonoperating brotherhoods is now in its 14th month. The losses suffered by the private interests involved are incalculable. The loss suffered by the public interest is intolerable.

"The recent bombings of this property are outrageous criminal acts.

"The interruption this past week of vital defense operations of Cape Kennedy, resulting from picketing, is a further insufferable price to the public," the telegrams read in part.

Picketing of Cape Kennedy began after the railroad started operations of a spur there. Work on millions of dollars in space projects was halted when construction workers honored the picket lines. Work was resumed after the National Labor Relations Board worked out a truce.

There have been more than 200 violent incidents during the strike. The most recent were dynamite bombings of freight trains in North Miami Beach and New Smyrna Beach.

The 1,300 members of the nonoperating unions employed by the railroad struck Jan. 23, 1963, after the railroad said it could not grant their request for 10.28 cent an hour raise.

The unions said they can't afford to settle for less than the national pattern of 10.22 cents added to hourly pay of $2.42. This was accepted by 190 Class I railroads in 1962 on the basis of a National Emergency Board recommendation.

The railroad has been operating with supervisory employes and trainees. It carries only freight.

U.S. Today Launches Operation Big Thrust

BERGSTROM AIR FORCE BASE, Tex., (AP)—Operation Big Thrust begins today, a modified version of the transatlantic exercise Big Lift that set new military transport records last October.

About 1,500 soldiers of the 2nd Armored Division at Ft. Hood will fly to Germany as replacement in the maneuver. The entire division went to Germany in around the clock flights last October to prove the United States' ability for quick international movement of combat ready troops.

Operation Big Thrust begins with 16 consecutive flights from Bergstrom, 8 miles southeast of Austin. They are scheduled to terminate at Rhein-Main, near er period, but the rates charged customers would be less.

No formal action was taken on the proposal.

It was indicated that the elimination of the proposed lateral sewers for the lutlying areas which are not now served by sewers for the outlaying areas the cost of the project to the original estimate of some $350-000.

Under this arrangement, the rates charged customers would be possibly 110 per cent of the water bill. Lemeier said it is possible the rates could be under 100 per cent.

Under tentative plans for the sewage plant project, bills would be collected monthly through the water office.

Discussion was also held on a proposal to refinance the present mortgage on the city's water works to include it in with the sewage project.

Also under consideration is financing of installation of water meters for the whole city in the project.

Todd was scheduled to advertise for bids on the project this month, but the proposals for financing have delayed action.

In last night's discussion, Councilman Donald Chaney opposed a change in the financing contract to extend the bonds to 40 years. Councilman Charles Kology indicated he favors the longer period if it means cheaper rates for customers.

A $105,000 federal grant has been authorized for the project. The plant is slated to be erected in a section of the City Park.

Council is expected to further discuss the financing at a meeting tonight.

Charlie Dees of the Los Angeles Angels was the best hitting first baseman in the American League last season. He batted .307 in 60 games. Joe Cunningham of the White Sox was second with .286.

Trucker Due To Testify In Lisbon Trial

LISBON — Vernon Hatcher of Quaker City, 28-year-old driver of a tractor-trailer truck involved in a Route 7 crash which claimed eight lives Oct. 2, was expected to testify today in his second degree manslaughter trial in Common Pleas Court.

The prosecution rested its case Monday afternoon after two Ohio Highway Patrolman gave testimony on the crash near Williamsport.

Patrolman Phil Wenner told how Hatcher's rig, loaded with three heavy steel coils, apparently began to sway on the downhill curve, and one of the coils slipped off the rig and hit one car then the rig crashed head-on into another.

Both officers said Hatcher's truck was left of the center line.

In defense testimony this morning, it was claimed Hatcher was not negligent, that the load on the rig shifted and he did everything possible to keep the truck under control.

A verdict is expected sometime Wednesday in the trial before Judge Raymond Buzzard.

Alley Closings Aired By St. Clair Trustees

Discussion on a proposed closing of some alleys in the vicinity of the Christian Church at Fredericktown was held with some church members at a meeting of the St. Clair Township trustees Monday night.

Church members seek to close some of the alleys which they say have not been used for many years. Trustees explained the members can circulate a petition and present it to county commissioners, who have the authority to take the closure action.

Trustees authorized slag for Glenn St. in Glenmoor. Bills totaling $2,200 were paid, largely slag expenses.

some thought to a possible successor.

Some members privately have said they feel the successor should be named from the four unsuccessful candidates last fall. In the order in which they finished, they were Richard Smith, Joseph G. Reed, William Blair Jr. and Harry L. Simpson.

Others have suggested the board consider one of the former members if a vacancy occurred.

Rumors concerning Heasley's inability to serve have been heard since the day following his election last November when he led a seven-man field for three posts.

In response to questions, he indicated he intended to serve out his term, commuting between East Liverpool and Ashtabula for the board meetings.

However, Heasley was able to attend only the organization meeting of the board on Jan. 6 when he along with Samuel R. Brown and John R. Woomer were sworn in. He was absent at the Jan. 27 and Feb 3 meetings.

The officers had been attempting to serve warrants alleging felonious assault and assault and battery on Jurgens, but the sheriff's office was uncertain of who filed the complaint.

Jurgens was taken to Wellsville where he signed a waiver of extradition, and then was taken to Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland.

Jurgens was charged with reckless operation by Wellsville police. He posted a $33.70 bond, which he forfeited when he failed to appear for a hearing this morning before Mayor William Daugherty.

He was driving a 1963 model Chevrolet, the sheriff's office reported.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Native Returns Again To TV

Rod Sterling loped off into science fiction. Reginald Rose settled for the weekly courtroom arguments of "The Defenders." Paddy Chayefsky deserted television altogether for the theater. Tad Mosel is a stage and movie man, now, and so are J. P. Miller and Gore Vidal.

Alan Gill

I've lost track of Robert Alan Arthur. Most of the fine writers of TV's Golden Age—the age that opened with "Studio 1" and ended with "Playhouse 90"—have gone on to other things; except for a rare event, the distinguished original teleplay as an art form lingers only in the memory.

-:-

BUT NEXT Sunday night, one of the best of the Golden Boys, Horton Foote, will be represented on television by, of all things, a script that's new! original! and written, not recklessly, but with loving care!

Talent Associates, the David Susskind-Dan Melnick outfit, is producing Foote's play, "The Gambling Heart," for "Show of the Week".

The script, which I've read, is a stylized farce about (a) the torments of financial failure and success and (b) the family jealousies that arise when a mother thinks the way Mrs. Turner thinks and then says her thoughts out loud.

IF YOU'RE familiar with Edward Albee's gift to the Theater of the Absurd, "The American Dream," then you've caught a bit of the flavor of "The Gambling Heart" as well.

Whether the thing works out successfully in the performance or not, the return of a native like Horton Foote should be greeted with banners, bunting and brass bands. And I trust you'll be out on the village common with bugle in hand.

The last time a Foote script showed up on TV was a little more than two years ago, when Susskind produced "Night of the Storm," a drama about a small-town boy who ran away from home as his pa lay dying.

It starred Julie Harris, Jo Van Fleet, a back porch and a train whistle. (There is often a porch in sight in a play by Horton Foote, and that plaintive hoo-oo in the distance.)

BUT IF YOU don't remember "Night of the Storm," then perhaps you recall Lillian Gish in "A Trip to Bountiful" with a quickening of heartbeat? Or Kim Stanley in "A Young Lady of Property" or "Tomorrow"? No?

"Tomorrow" became "The Traveling Lady" on stage and now Foote has made it into a movie under the direction of Robert Mulligan, who also directed the man's screen play of "To Kill a Mockingbird."

Another work of his, "The Chase," is being adapted by Lillian Hellman for the movies. And a new drama, "The Habitation of Dragons," is awaiting a fair breeze that will blow it onto a Broadway stage.

WITH THIS swirl of activity going on about the person of Horton Foote, you'd expect him to be a chain-smoking, knuckle-gnawing fellow with the delivery of a sports announcer. But he's a rather deliberate, gentle, smiling man who speaks in the soft tones of Wharton, Tex., where he was born and reared.

(With his wife and four children, he lives now in the quiet Hudson River town of Nyack, N. J. Whenever his family is looking the other way, though, he "sneaks" down to Wharton for a few weeks of reacquaintance and refueling.)

"I left television," he says, "because my instinct told me to go, to break away. A writer will write himself out after a time. You can't just press a button and write a play, though TV expects it of us.

"IN JUST TWO seasons of 'Playhouse,' I remember I wrote nine hour-long shows and two half hours. After a spell of that sort, it's a long time before you can think of writing a TV script again.

"A couple of years ago, David Susskind and I were talking about doing a movie; but then he asked me about a TV script and got me to say something. He's been pressing me ever since.

I'd been working on and off on something called 'The Gambling Heart.' I knew I'd finish it eventually, and hoped it would find a home. Here it's found one.

"Because it was by me and about money, it had to be a farce.

"I DON'T KNOW anything about finance. I hear that investment-wise people do this or that and talk a kind of mumbo-jumbo of their own. 'Hold onto your stocks,' they'd say, 'and pray.'

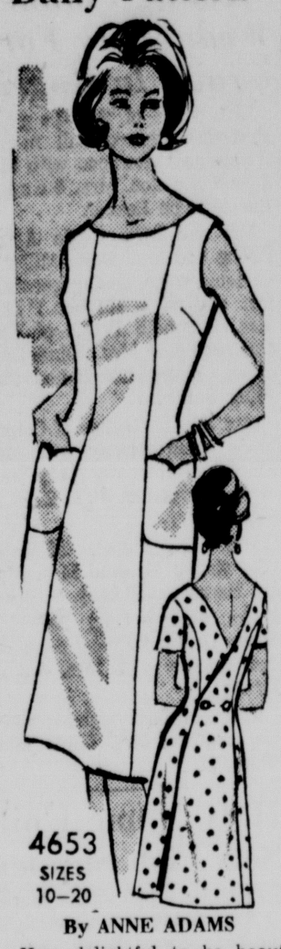

"An actress told me a long time ago, very firmly, 'Once you buy, never sell.' I stayed away from the stock market for years. The day I invested was the day of that last crash we had."

Horton Foote may be returning to television, but he'll never go near high finance again.

Venezuela Presidents Cites Cuban Agents

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt said Monday that Cuban agents, although stifled by tough Venezuelan action, have not given up their attempt to make this oil-rich South American nation a Soviet beachhead.

"All efforts to establish a Soviet beachhead here have failed but they have not stopped," he said. "Many Cuban agents are now jailed but others are still in the streets."

Tass Makes Report On Jack Ruby's Trial

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass reported the opening of the trial of Jack Ruby in Dallas Monday as follows:

"The trial of Jack Rubinstein (Ruby), who shot Lee Oswald on Nov. 24 last year, began at Dallas, Tex., today. The court rejected the demand of the defense counsel for the immediate closing of the trial due to the 'insanity' of the defendant and began selecting the jury members."

Language In Lower Grades Questioned

You may read in educational journals and popular magazines lavish praise of elementary schools which teach a foreign language. You may often hear parents speak enthusiastically of the way their children in the kindergarten, first or second grade are being taught French or Spanish, even though they themselves can speak no foreign language. If you were conducting a private kindergarten or an entire elementary school, you night consider it a good promotion plan to teach French or Spanish or Italian at any or all levels.

THE YOUNGER the child who can toss off some everyday expressions of a foreign language the more his parents, other relatives and neighbors are impressed, even amazed. Rarely do these admiring adults consider for how long this child will continue to learn this language. Nor may the director of a private or public elementary school give this matter due consideration.

Young children, of course, who practice speaking a foreign language continuously year after year for three, five or more years should acquire a high degree of mastery of this language. And children in the upper, or primary grades, even in kindergarten, when taught a foreign language by modern methods, may take to it more readily than do children in high school or college.

The question is: For how many years continuously will they be exposed to this teaching after its beginning? Even children who first take a foreign language in junior high, high school or college probably waste considerable time and effort, if they don't have three, four or more consecutive years in this language.

BEFORE A school administrator decides to teach a foreign language in the elementary grades he should consider the following questions:

1. At what grade level can it be done, with a view to continuing the language for three, four or more successive years?

2. Can it be taught daily as most other subjects are, or will it be a smattering during a few minutes a day or a week?

3. Will amply-trained teachers be available?

4. From what part of the traditional school program will the time be taken for this course in a foreign language?

5. With the enormous number of children moving with their families, how about the many children, not having been taught a foreign language before, who won't remain in any particular public elementary school for several successive years?

Parents eager to have their children taught a foreign language in the elementary grades should also consider these problems.

WE MIGHT add that in most other countries, many children who learn at school to speak a foreign language passing well generally do not begin its study till the age of about ten years. Then they keep at it, as a rule, all through the rest of their school life.

You may find a stimulating article on this subject by Donna Hussain in the December, 1963, issue of "Elementary English."

Awards Presented At County MD Chapter's Dinner Event

Twenty - five attended the awards dinner held Monday night by the Columbiana County Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy at Theron's Community Room on Route 164 east of Columbiana.

Mrs. Robert Talbott, president, presented 50 awards. These included citations to Janet Jenkins, a Beaver Local High School junior, and Trudy Klamer, an eighth grader at Salem Junior High, for papers on muscular dystrophy.

The late O. Earl Greenawalt of East Liverpool was cited posthumously for his work.

Floyd Trachsel of Columbus, a district deputy, spoke on patient service and a camp for patients. Mrs. Frank Harlan of Alliance, a teacher at Knox School and a member of the Executive Board of the national MD office at New York, related how a chapter was started in 1949 in the Alliance area. This was a year before the national association was formed. There now are 375 chapters and 60 clinics.

A discussion was held on the fund campaign. To date $2,963 has been collected, approximately $3,000 short of the goal.

Mrs. Leo Jenkins of Rogers, patient service representative, spoke of her work for 18 patients.

It was announced Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has been named national honorary chairman.

The next meeting will be March 16.

Cross-Complaint Filed In Lima's Newspaper Fight

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A $20 million cross-complaint has been filed in U. S. District Court here by Freedom Newspapers, Inc., of Lima against the corporation owning the defunct Lima Citizen. The plaintiff is publisher of the Lima News.

The Citizen sued Freedom Newspapers for $7,875,000 last fall, alleging violations of the Sherman and Clayton antitrust laws. The Citizen was bought by Freedom Newspapers last month, but its lawsuit remained alive. The corporation owning the Citizen continues.

In its suit filed Monday, Freedom Newspapers alleges that that the Citizen and its top management damaged the News to the extent of $5.6 million in the last four years.

It arrived at the $20 million requested by adding the $1,262,000 sale price of the Citizen to the $5.6 million damage estimate and asking triple damages.

School Board Accepts Levenson Resignation

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Supt. William B. Levenson, expressing regret that Levenson plans to leave at the end of the current school year.

Ralph A. McAllister, board president, refused to allow George Womer, executive secretary of the Cleveland Education Association, to present at the meeting Monday a petition with signatures of teachers from 41 Cleveland schools. The petitions asked Levenson to withdraw his resignation pending an investigation of the Cleveland school system by the National Education Association.

The NEA agreed to send representatives here to study the schools after Levenson submitted his resignation last week.

Prayer Breakfast Plans Advanced At Meeting Here

Plans were advanced for the East Liverpool area "Mayor's Prayer Breakfast" when the Citizen's Committee sponsoring the event met Monday.

The breakfast will be March 14 at the Travelers Hotel, beginning at 7 a. m.

Ralph Compa, chairman of the invitation committee, said invitations will be mailed shortly, with the deadline for reservations March 6. Requests for tickets may be made by calling radio station WOHI. Compa explained that the invitation list will be limited to the capacity of the hotel dining room.

William H. Smith, general chairman, pointed out that clergymen will not be invited because of the limited space and because of the attempt to interest the general public in the prayer program.

In addition to Smith and Compa, Monday's meeting was attended by Delmar T. O'Hara, George A. Shaw, Joseph D. Coons, Clarence Wright and Frank Fluno. The next executive meeting will be March 3 at the hotel.

If you're after a car with some life to it, there's only one thing to do. Be my guest.

I'm easy to find, you know. Just look for me at your Buick dealer's, during his Sports Car Rally. While you wait for me, you can drive one of his sport models—a Wildcat, maybe, or a Skylark. Or even a Riviera. In fact, you can drive all three. That's what the Buick Sports Car Rally is all about. (What a way to start a New Year!) If I don't show up, you can talk price. That's even more pleasant than conversation with me. You'll see. Once you get your hands on a Buick, you won't miss me a bit. Really.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Native Returns Again To TV

Rod Sterling loped off into science fiction. Reginald Rose settled for the weekly courtroom arguments of "The Defenders." Paddy Chayefsky deserted television altogether for the theater. Tad Mosel is a stage and movie man, now, and so are J. P. Miller and Gore Vidal.

Alan Gill

I've lost track of Robert Alan Arthur. Most of the fine writers of TV's Golden Age—the age that opened with "Studio 1" and ended with "Playhouse 90"—have gone on to other things; except for a rare event, the distinguished original teleplay as an art form lingers only in the memory.

-:-

BUT NEXT Sunday night, one of the best of the Golden Boys, Horton Foote, will be represented on television by, of all things, a script that's new! original! and written, not recklessly, but with loving care!

Talent Associates, the David Susskind-Dan Melnick outfit, is producing Foote's play, "The Gambling Heart," for "Show of the Week".

The script, which I've read, is a stylized farce about (a) the torments of financial failure and success and (b) the family jealousies that arise when a mother thinks the way Mrs. Turner thinks and then says her thoughts out loud.

IF YOU'RE familiar with Edward Albee's gift to the Theater of the Absurd, "The American Dream," then you've caught a bit of the flavor of "The Gambling Heart" as well.

Whether the thing works out successfully in the performance or not, the return of a native like Horton Foote should be greeted with banners, bunting and brass bands. And I trust you'll be out on the village common with bugle in hand.

The last time a Foote script showed up on TV was a little more than two years ago, when Susskind produced "Night of the Storm," a drama about a small-town boy who ran away from home as his pa lay dying.

It starred Julie Harris, Jo Van Fleet, a back porch and a train whistle. (There is often a porch in sight in a play by Horton Foote, and that plaintive hoo-oo in the distance.)

—:—

BUT IF YOU don't remember "Night of the Storm," then perhaps you recall Lillian Gish in "A Trip to Bountiful" with a quickening of heartbeat? Or Kim Stanley in "A Young Lady of Property" or "Tomorrow"? No?

"Tomorrow" became "The Traveling Lady" on stage and now Foote has made it into a movie under the direction of Robert Mulligan, who also directed the man's screen play of "To Kill a Mockingbird."

Another work of his, "The Chase," is being adapted by Lillian Hellman for the movies. And a new drama, "The Habitation of Dragons," is awaiting a fair breeze that will blow it onto a Broadway stage.

WITH THIS swirl of activity going on about the person of Horton Foote, you'd expect him to be a chain-smoking, knuckle-gnawing fellow with the delivery of a sports announcer. But he's a rather deliberate, gentle, smiling man who speaks in the soft tones of Wharton, Tex., where he was born and reared.

(With his wife and four children, he lives now in the quiet Hudson River town of Nyack, N. J. Whenever his family is looking the other way, though, he "sneaks" down to Wharton for a few weeks of reacquaintance and refueling.)

"I left television," he says, "because my instinct told me to go, to break away. A writer will write himself out after a time. You can't just press a button and write a play, though TV expects it of us.

"IN JUST TWO seasons of 'Playhouse,' I remember I wrote nine hour-long shows and two half hours. After a spell of that sort, it's a long time before you can think of writing a TV script again.

"A couple of years ago, David Susskind and I were talking about doing a movie; but then he asked me about a TV script and got me to say something. He's been pressing me ever since.

I'd been working on and off on something called 'The Gambling Heart.' I knew I'd finish it eventually, and hoped it would find a home. Here it's found one.

"Because it was by me and about money, it had to be a farce.

"I DON'T KNOW anything about finance. I hear that investment-wise people do this or that and talk a kind of mumbo-jumbo of their own. 'Hold onto your stocks,' they'd say, 'and pray.'

"An actress told me a long time ago, very firmly, 'Once you buy, never sell.' I stayed away from the stock market for years. The day I invested was the day of that last crash we had."

Horton Foote may be returning to television, but he'll never go near high finance again.

Venezuela Presidents Cites Cuban Agents

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt said Monday that Cuban agents, although stifled by tough Venezuelan action, have not given up their attempt to make this oil-rich South American nation a Soviet beachhead.

"All efforts to establish a Soviet beachhead here have failed but they have not stopped," he said. "Many Cuban agents are now jailed but others are still in the streets."

Tass Makes Report On Jack Ruby's Trial

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass reported the opening of the trial of Jack Ruby in Dallas Monday as follows:

"The trial of Jack Rubinstein (Ruby), who shot Lee Oswald on Nov. 24 last year, began at Dallas, Tex., today. The court rejected the demand of the defense counsel for the immediate closing of the trial due to the 'insanity' of the defendant and began selecting the jury members."

Language In Lower Grades Questioned

You may read in educational journals and popular magazines lavish praise of elementary schools which teach a foreign language. You may often hear parents speak enthusiastically of the way their children in the kindergarten, first or second grade are being taught French or Spanish, even though they themselves can speak no foreign language. If you were conducting a private kindergarten or an entire elementary school, you night consider it a good promotion plan to teach French or Spanish or Italian at any or all levels.

THE YOUNGER the child who can toss off some everyday expressions of a foreign language the more his parents, other relatives and neighbors are impressed, even amazed. Rarely do these admiring adults consider for how long this child will continue to learn this language. Nor may the director of a private or public elementary school give this matter due consideration.

Young children, of course, who practice speaking a foreign language continuously year after year for three, five or more years should acquire a high degree of mastery of this language. And children in the upper, or primary grades, even in kindergarten, when taught a foreign language by modern methods, may take to it more readily than do children in high school or college.

The question is: For how many years continuously will they be exposed to this teaching after its beginning? Even children who first take a foreign language in junior high, high school or college probably waste considerable time and effort, if they don't have three, four or more consecutive years in this language.

BEFORE A school administrator decides to teach a foreign language in the elementary grades he should consider the following questions:

1. At what grade level can it be done, with a view to continuing the language for three, four or more successive years?

2. Can it be taught daily as most other subjects are, or will it be a smattering during a few minutes a day or a week?

3. Will amply-trained teachers be available?

4. From what part of the traditional school program will the time be taken for this course in a foreign language?

5. With the enormous number of children moving with their families, how about the many children, not having been taught a foreign language before, who won't remain in any particular public elementary school for several successive years?

Parents eager to have their children taught a foreign language in the elementary grades should also consider these problems.

WE MIGHT add that in most other countries, many children who learn at school to speak a foreign language passing well generally do not begin its study till the age of about ten years. Then they keep at it, as a rule, all through the rest of their school life.

You may find a stimulating article on this subject by Donna Hussain in the December, 1963, issue of "Elementary English."

Awards Presented At County MD Chapter's Dinner Event

Twenty - five attended the awards dinner held Monday night by the Columbiana County Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy at Theron's Community Room on Route 164 east of Columbiana.

Mrs. Robert Talbott, president, presented 50 awards. These included citations to Janet Jenkins, a Beaver Local High School junior, and Trudy Klamer, an eighth grader at Salem Junior High, for papers on muscular dystrophy.

The late O. Earl Greenawalt of East Liverpool was cited posthumously for his work.

Floyd Trachsel of Columbus, a district deputy, spoke on patient service and a camp for patients. Mrs. Frank Harlan of Alliance, a teacher at Knox School and a member of the Executive Board of the national MD office at New York, related how a chapter was started in 1949 in the Alliance area. This was a year before the national association was formed. There now are 375 chapters and 60 clinics.

A discussion was held on the fund campaign. To date $2,963 has been collected, approximately $3,000 short of the goal.

Mrs. Leo Jenkins of Rogers, patient service representative, spoke of her work for 18 patients.

It was announced Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has been named national honorary chairman.

The next meeting will be March 16.

Cross-Complaint Filed In Lima's Newspaper Fight

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A $20 million cross-complaint has been filed in U. S. District Court here by Freedom Newspapers, Inc., of Lima against the corporation owning the defunct Lima Citizen. The plaintiff is publisher of the Lima News.

The Citizen sued Freedom Newspapers for $7,875,000 last fall, alleging violations of the Sherman and Clayton antitrust laws. The Citizen was bought by Freedom Newspapers last month, but its lawsuit remained alive. The corporation owning the Citizen continues.

In its suit filed Monday, Freedom Newspapers alleges that that the Citizen and its top management damaged the News to the extent of $5.6 million in the last four years.

It arrived at the $20 million requested by adding the $1,262,000 sale price of the Citizen to the $5.6 million damage estimate and asking triple damages.

School Board Accepts Levenson Resignation

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Supt. William B. Levenson, expressing regret that Levenson plans to leave at the end of the current school year.

Ralph A. McAllister, board president, refused to allow George Womer, executive secretary of the Cleveland Education Association, to present at the meeting Monday a petition with signatures of teachers from 41 Cleveland schools. The petitions asked Levenson to withdraw his resignation pending an investigation of the Cleveland school system by the National Education Association.

The NEA agreed to send representatives here to study the schools after Levenson submitted his resignation last week.

Prayer Breakfast Plans Advanced At Meeting Here

Plans were advanced for the East Liverpool area "Mayor's Prayer Breakfast" when the Citizen's Committee sponsoring the event met Monday.

The breakfast will be March 14 at the Travelers Hotel, beginning at 7 a. m.

Ralph Compa, chairman of the invitation committee, said invitations will be mailed shortly, with the deadline for reservations March 6. Requests for tickets may be made by calling radio station WOHI. Compa explained that the invitation list will be limited to the capacity of the hotel dining room.

William H. Smith, general chairman, pointed out that clergymen will not be invited because of the limited space and because of the attempt to interest the general public in the prayer program.

In addition to Smith and Compa, Monday's meeting was attended by Delmar T. O'Hara, George A. Shaw, Joseph D. Coons, Clarence Wright and Frank Fluno. The next executive meeting will be March 3 at the hotel.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I clean ceramic tile?

A. Using a mixture of two parts liquid detergent with three parts of household vinegar, take an old toothbrush and scrub the tile with this mixture, especially the putty strips which join the blocks of tile.

Q.—How can I facilitate the chilling of gelatins?

A. By settling your mold in a pan of ice water. This is a special boon when your kitchen time is limited — and it is also helpful when making layered gelatin molds.

Q.—How can I mend breaks in a toothpaste tupe — or any such kind of tube for that matter?

A. With a strip of sturdy cellophane tape wrapped at least twice around the tube.

Q.—How can I clean soiled gilt picture frames?

A. With a cloth moistened with a little dry-cleaning fluid—such as carbon tetrachloride.

Board To Air Involved Bids On Fire Hose

Seven offers to supply the city with approximately 1,400 feet of fire hose were taken under consideration Monday afternoon after the Board of Control opened bids.

Based on prices per foot, the involved bids ranged from $2.35 to $1.42 a foot for 800 feet of 2½-inch hose and from $1.65 to 95 cents a foot for 600 feet of 1½-inch line.

Most of the bidders offered alternate bids with varying prices based on the type of material used.

Capt. A. J. Mannweiler & Son, Inc., of Massillon offered 800 feet of 2½-inch "Hewflex" 400 pound test at $2 a foot or "Hewitt 400" at $1.42. The price on 600 feet of 1½-inch was set at $1.25 for "Hewflex" and 95 cents for "Hewitt 400."

The company said similar hose has been in use in the fire department here for more than 10 years. The hose is guaranteed for 10 years, it said.

McCormick Fire Equipment Co. of Monroeville offered 800 feet of B. F. Goodrich "Flexking" at $1.80 and 600 feet at $1.24 a foot. Goodrich's "White King" was offered at $2.10 a foot for 2½-inch and $1.30 for 1½-inch line.

However, the firm falied to enclose either a certified check or bid bond for 5 per cent of the bid, as required in the city's legal advertisement.

Harold D. Hard Co. of Columbus offered to supply "National Supreme" 800-pound test for $2.05 for 2½-inch and $1.44 for 1½-inch. It offered "National Premier" 800-pound test at $2.15 for 2½-inch and $1.50 for the smaller hose.

The company also offered National Free-fold 600-pound test at $1.75 a foot for 2½-inch and $1.38 for 1½-inch. It offered National's 400-pound test with 1,000 pound burst at $1.50 for 2½-inch line and $1.32 for 1½-inch.

The Sutphen Fire Equipment Co. of Columbus offered 1,000 feet of Tiger brand with 600-pound test at $2.35 a foot for 2½-inch and $1.65 for 1½-inch. The same quantity of Spar brand would cost $1.95 for 2½-inch and $1.50 for 1½-inch.

Sutphen also offered 1,000 feet of "F-600" at $1.70 for 2½-inch and $1.30 for 1½-inch.

If the city specifies 400-pound test rather than 600-pound, a deduction of 10 cents per foot will be allowed, it said.

John J. O'Doherty Co., Inc., of Rocky River asked $1.85 a foot for Goodrich "Vitoseal" 2½-inch hose and $1.40 for 1½-inch.

Warren Fire Equipment Co. of Warren offered to supply the best grade Bi-Lateral 600-pound test at $2.10 for 2½-inch and $1.50 for 1½-inch. With 400-pound test, the prices would be $1.95 and $1.45.

It also offered "Huron 200T" with 600-pound test at $1.50 for 2½-inch and $1.15 for 1½-inch.

McCune Radiator & Electrical Service of Lisbon offered the Mercer Rubber Co. of Trenton Municipal Underwriter 400-pound test at $1.65 and $1.16 and its Princeton 600-pound test brand at $1.83 and $1.19.

If the hose is to be wax and gum treated, it will cost an additional 10 cents a foot.

Mayor Merrill D. Hall and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, who comprise the board, will consider the bids before acting.

Council authorized the purchase of the hose and appropriated $3,000 to cover the anticipated cost at its Jan. 6 meeting.

Pardon, Parole Group Slated To Fill Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission may decide next Monday on an appointment to the vacant post of executive secretary. The commissioners received a list of five prospects from Gov. James A. Rhodes' office Monday.

Rhodes' aide, John McElroy, did not identify those under consideration to replace recently transferred Roger A. Valentine. He did say they are professionals in the corrections field.

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

THE LORD HATH NEED OF HIM

Passing through Bethpage and Bethany on the way to Jerusalem, Christ and His disciples came to the Mount of Olives. There, He sent two of them ahead into the city with instructions to look for a colt tied up and upon which no man had ever ridden.

"And if any man say unto you, Why do you do this? Say ye that the Lord hath need of him, and straight away he will send him hither." (Mark XI:3)

Sure enough, the two disciples found the colt tethered near a doorway, loosed him as directed and, though challenged by a by-stander, were permitted to lead him away. It was on this colt that Jesus made his triumphant entry into Jerusalem. 2-18

Zirwas Trial Nearing End

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The trial at which a three - judge panel will determine whether David H. Zirwas will be given a life term in prison or be executed is expected to be finished today.

Zirwas, charged with the fatal shooting of Benjamin Krawiecki, 42, of Youngstown on a Niles street last September, pleaded guilty to first - degree murder Monday as his trial was about to start before Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrell. He previously had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

The panel of prospective jurors was sent home after Zirwas changed his plea and the three-judge panel began hearing testimony to determine the degree of guilt. With Judge Birrell on the panel are Judges William M. McLain and Bruce P. Henderson.

Zirwas, 28, of Girard took the stand before the three judges and admitted shooting Krawiecki. But he said he didn't intend to shoot him, just scare him. He said that somehow the gun went off.

West Point Man Fined

LISBON — John S. Gbur, 43, of West Point was fined $5 and costs Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for failing to yield the right-of-way in making a turn and John R. Hairston, 28, of the Bronx, N. Y., forfeited a $15 appearance bond on charges of speeding. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

East End Man's Fine Suspended On Tax Charges

An East End man accused of violating the city income tax ordinance was given a suspended $10 fine today in Municipal Court, but ordered to pay the costs, after he submitted proof he has settled his account with the tax office.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff gave the suspended penalty to Lynwood Wilson, 2100 Crawford Ave. Wilson pleaded guilty Feb. 5 on a charge filed by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson alleging he failed to file a final return on 1962 income. The court granted a continuance until today after Wilson promised to settle his account.

Atty. W. S. Foulks, counsel for Wilson, told the court the defendant went to the tax office in November and paid $20 on his estimate of 1963 earnings. But Wilson was under the impression he was paying on his 1962 tax, the attorney said.

Wilson paid the balance of his 1962 tax on Feb. 3, the attorney said. He commented that the case arose out of "an oversight or a misunderstanding."

Driver Pays $25 For 6-Month-Old Traffic Charge

Frank M. Duncan, 1754 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was fined $25 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a traffic charge dating back six months.

Duncan was cited Aug. 21 on Broadway by Patrolman Paul Blevins on a charge of operating a car without a driver's license. Queried by the court, Duncan explained he had been in Alabama four of the last six months.

A warrant was served on Duncan Sunday at 2:25 p. m. by Patrolmen William A. Devon and Orin C. Smith. Duncan told the judge he was arrested four days after his license had expired, but he was unaware of the expiration. He has since obtained a new permit, he said.

The judge pointed out that records show Duncan also was cited Aug. 21 on a reckless driving charge, forfeiting an appearance bond.

Springfield's Water Due To Be Fluoridated

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Springfield's water supply soon will contain fluoride, reputed inhibitor of tooth decay, unless the improbable develops. The City Commission, by a 3-2 vote, Monday night approved an ordinance calling for use of the chemical and it becomes effective in 30 days unless opponents overturn it by popular referendum.

Observers doubt that the opponents, who immediately promised to try, can get by next month the 4,300 signatures required to put a referendum on the ballot.

Mishap Hurts Lisbon Motorist Near Salem

A young Lisbon area woman received minor injuries when her car skidded into two autos in a previous mishap on Depot Rd. about three miles south of Salem Monday morning.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a car operated by Curtis James Sears, 29, of Salem R. D. entered the road from a private drive, into the path of an auto operated by Bernice Arter, 45, of Lisbon R. D. 4.

Their halted cars were struck by one driven by Barbara E. Albright, 19, of Lisbon R. D. 4, who suffered bruises of the legs and was charged with traveling at a speed in excess of safe conditions.

Sears was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way. Damage to the autos was moderate, officers said.

Parents, 3 Of 8 Children Die In Car-Train Crash

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A family outing and a visit with friends turned into tragedy when the mother and father and three of their eight children were killed in a car-train crash.

Two other children of the Samuel Monroe Bailey family were injured in the crash in the nearby Tucker community Monday night. Three children were at home.

The automobile was carried about 1,800 feet by the train after the crash at the crossing.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Bailey; Brenda, 16; Gayle, 7, and Kathie, 6.

Two other children in critical condition at a hospital were Betty Ann, 8, and Wayne, 2.

Engineer E.F. Lyons of Plum Branch, S.C., said the automobile pulled on the crossing directly in front of his train.

East End Man's Fine Suspended On Tax Charges

An East End man accused of violating the city income tax ordinance was given a suspended $10 fine today in Municipal Court, but ordered to pay the costs, after he submitted proof he has settled his account with the tax office.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff gave the suspended penalty to Lynwood Wilson, 2100 Crawford Ave. Wilson pleaded guilty Feb. 5 on a charge filed by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson alleging he failed to file a final return on 1962 income. The court granted a continuance until today after Wilson promised to settle his account.

Atty. W. S. Foulks, counsel for Wilson, told the court the defendant went to the tax office in November and paid $20 on his estimate of 1963 earnings. But Wilson was under the impression he was paying on his 1962 tax, the attorney said.

Wilson paid the balance of his 1962 tax on Feb. 3, the attorney said. He commented that the case arose out of "an oversight or a misunderstanding."

Mishap Hurts Lisbon Motorist Near Salem

A young Lisbon area woman received minor injuries when her car skidded into two autos in a previous mishap on Depot Rd. about three miles south of Salem Monday morning.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a car operated by Curtis James Sears, 29, of Salem R. D. entered the road from a private drive, into the path of an auto operated by Bernice Arter, 45, of Lisbon R. D. 4.

Their halted cars were struck by one driven by Barbara E. Albright, 19, of Lisbon R. D. 4, who suffered bruises of the legs and was charged with traveling at a speed in excess of safe conditions.

Sears was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way. Damage to the autos was moderate, officers said.

Parents, 3 Of 8 Children Die In Car-Train Crash

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A family outing and a visit with friends turned into tragedy when the mother and father and three of their eight children were killed in a car-train crash.

Two other children of the Samuel Monroe Bailey family were injured in the crash in the nearby Tucker community Monday night. Three children were at home.

The automobile was carried about 1,800 feet by the train after the crash at the crossing.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Bailey; Brenda, 16; Gayle, 7, and Kathie, 6.

Two other children in critical condition at a hospital were Betty Ann, 8, and Wayne, 2.

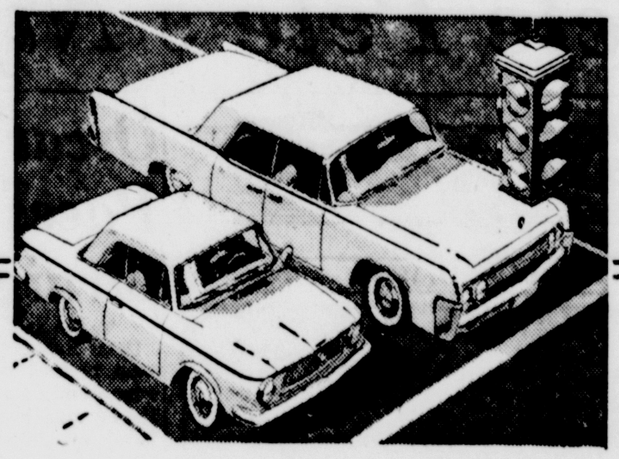

Engineer E.F. Lyons of Plum Branch, S.C., said the automobile pulled on the crossing directly in front of his train.

Beaver Local Teams Score Double Victory

Beaver Local teams scored a double victory Monday on the Beaver Public court.

The Beaver eighth grade team defeated United 35-19 with Bob Squires collecting 10 points.

The seventh grade outfit handed United a 41-26 setback with Dave Mason and Rich Squires scoring nine points each.

Manny Ycaza has been in the money three times in five Kentucky Derby rides but has never won the race.

ELHS-Weirton Game Looks Like Sellout

Only a few tickets remain on sale at Reese's Jewelers for the East Liverpool-Weirton game Friday night at Memorial Auditorium. The game probably will be a sellout and no tickets will be sold at the gate. Charles Deshler, ELHS athletic Director, said the MA can accommodate between 1,500-1,600 fans and extra seating has been arranged. Meanwhile, tickets for the ELHS-Toronto Sectional AA tournament game Monday at Steubenville are on sale at Reese's.

Defending NIT Champ Takes NCAA Bid

Providence Picked; Pitt In NIT

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

And just why did Providence, the National Invitation Tournament defending champion, turn down a bid by the NIT and accept one from the National Collegiate Athletic Association?

Well, athletic director, the Rev. A. B. Begley candidly pointed out, "It's the first time we had a chance to accept." Which means it's the first time the NCAA had ever picked Providence to fill one of the 10 at-large spots in its national tournament.

"We accepted the NCAA invitation," Begley said, "because we belong to the NCAA and it's our association championship."

The Friars, who had some early season uneasiness but now appear to have found the formula, were one of nine teams picked by the NCAA. Three more accepted bids to the NIT Monday as the two groups began their selections.

In addition to Providence, the NCAA selected defending champion Chicago Loyola, Villanova, Creighton, Texas Western, Louisville, Oregon State, Utah State and Seattle.

One more NCAA at-large team remains to be picked for the long string of eliminations that culminate in the national tournament at Kansas City March 20-21. The other 15 spots go to conference champions.

The NIT, which will be played in New York's Madison Square Garden March 12-21, picked DePaul, 16-2; Pitt, 14-6; and New York University, 11-5. Nine others will be selected later.

Providence, 17-3 after Monday night's 95-75 triumph over Scranton, and Villanova, ranked fifth nationally at 19-2, are in the NCAA Eastern regional along with Temple, Middle Atlantic champion, and the champions of the Yankee, Southern, Ivy and Atlantic Coast conferences.

Loyola, 15-5, and Louisville, 14-6, are in the Mideast with the conference champs from the Mid America, Ohio Valley, Southeastern and Big Ten.

The Midwest has Creighton, 19-5, Texas Western, 19-2, and winners from the Southwest, Missouri Valley, Big Eight and one more at-large team to be named.

The Far West has Oregon State, 21-3, Utah State, 17-3, Seattle, 16-4, and winners from the Western Athletic Conference, the Big Six and the West Coast Conference.

Regional first-round eliminations will be held in Philadelphia, Evanston, Ill., Dallas and Eugene, Ore. Teams with first-round byes are the champs from the Atlantic Coast, the Big Eight, the Southeastern, the Big Ten, the West Coast and the Big Six.

Regional championships are scheduled March 13-14 in Raleigh, N.C., Minneapolis, Wichita, Kan., and Corvallis, Ore.

Providence, which won only four of its first seven, celebrates its selection with its 13th straight triumph in the decision over Scranton. John Thompson and Jim Stone each had 25 points for the rampaging Friars who were never in serious trouble.

Probably the top attraction was Kentucky's 104-73 home triumph over Vanderbilt. Cotton Nash played one of the finest games of his career in sparking the victory that put the Wildcats in sole possession of first place with a 9-2 Southeastern record. Kentucky, ranked third in the nation, is 19-2 over-all.

Nash scored 32 points, stole the ball a dozen times, played a fine defensive game and controlled the offensive rebounds.

Bradds' 30 Leads OSU Over Iowa

By The Associated Press

Habits are hard to shake. And Ohio State has the Big Ten basketball championship habit—but it's Michigan that has to do the shaking.

The Wolverines must shake off the relentless pursuit of the surging Buckeyes.

Given up for lost after a 5-5 nonconference record and a 3-2 conference start, the Buckeyes made Iowa their fifth straight Big Ten victim Monday night, 99-82.

That puts the utmost pressure on Michigan, now looking a little less like a shoo-in for an unshared crown, as the Wolverines take the court against third place Minnesota tonight in Minneapolis.

Ohio State is now 8-2 with four conference games left, while Michigan is just a half-game up at 8-1 and could fall into a tie with the Bucks should Minnesota (6-3) halt the Wolverines. Ohio is after a piece of its fifth straight title.

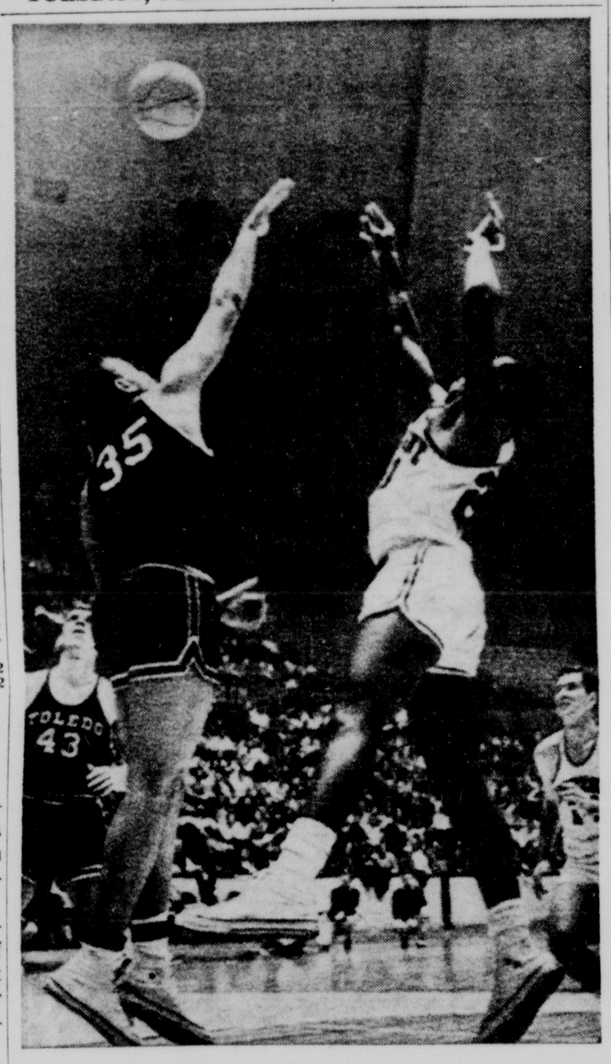

Gary Bradds had 30 points Monday night, the first time in the last seven games the All-America scored under 40.

Ohio led 54-43 at the half and stayed at least eight points ahead thereafter. Jimmy Rodgers' 25 markers paced Iowa, now 2-6 in the league.

In other games involving Ohio schools, Toledo's disintegrating Rockets absorbed a 98-66 butchering at Duquesne, Akron (15-6) whipped Ashland 76-59, and Steubenville (12-7) trimmed St. Vincent at Latrobe, Pa., 68-62.

Bob Giegengack is in his 18th year as coach of the Yale track team. He formerly coached at Fordham.

Oscar's 45 Paces 12th Straight

By The Associated Press

Oscar Robertson, who doesn't seem to need much help, got some from a guy named Smith Monday night and the Cincinnati Royals made the San Francisco Warriors their 12th straight National Basketball Association patsies.

Adrian Smith came off the Royals' bench to assist the assist-master as Cincy ran away from the Warriors 129-113 at Cleveland, thereby cutting Boston's Eastern Division lead to 1½ games.

In the only other NBA game played, Baltimore employed a zone defense and a public relations campaign against St. Louis but the Hawks' late drive dumped the Bullets 115-110.

Smith's 16 points abetted Robby's 45 to offset the Warriors' Wilt Chamberlain, who poured in 52. The Royals' backcourt combination clicked for 22 assists—10 by Smith—as Cincinnati raced past the Warriors in the third quarter. When San Francisco closed to 86-84, Smith triggered a series of fast-break baskets that put the Royals out of reach.

At Baltimore, referee Norm Drucker hit the Bullets with a technical foul for playing a zone—illegal in the NBA—near the end of the third period. The call touched off a debate between the officials and Baltimore publicity director Jerry Krause, who wound up being ejected from his vantage point at the sideline table.

St. Louis took it from there, overcoming a 94-78 Baltimore lead in the final 12 minutes behind the clutch shooting of Richie Guerin and Charley Vaughn.

Three Teams Deadlocked For First Place In City League

A log jam formed in the City Basketball League Monday night when the Tri-State Reds upended previously undefeated Uncle Pete's, 82-79, to throw the loop into a three way tie.

The Tri-State five, George Bright's and Uncle Pete's are all deadlocked with 4-1 records.. Bright's got into its share of the tie with a 71-53 victory over Chester V. F. W.

In one other game, Bloor's Pharmacy scored a 67-51 decision over winless Robert's Sunoco.

In order to beat Uncle Pete's, which had a four game winning streak up until last night, the Reds had to stave off a late rally that saw the Wellsville five come from 20 points behind at halftime to almost catch the winners.

Tri-State led at intermission 48-28 but Uncle Pete's caught fire in the third quarter. Leading the Tri-State five was Jim Potts with 21 while Bob Zak the former Midland and Steubenville College standout, hooped 19. Jerry Murawski added 16 points to the attack.

Franklin Jackson was high for both teams with 22 while Bert Dorsey aded 18.

George Bright's walked out to a 33-20 halftime lead and coasted to victory over Chester VFW. A 24-point performance by Bevo Francis plus Herb Lake's 19 points effort and 18 by Roger Linville featured Bright's attack.

Frank Kenney and Dave Bell paced Chester with 23 and 19 respectively.

Bloor's Pharmacy won its second game in five starts as Willie Cook sizzled the nets for 26 points. Bloor's led at halftime, 37-22. Jim Pape, Beaver Local floor coach, sparked Robert's with 19.

Royals Show Top Offensive Club In NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — The top offensive machine in the National Basketball Association belongs to Cincinnati's streaking Royals.

The Ohioans, unbeaten in the last 12 games, including Monday night's 129-113 victory over San Francisco, lead the NBA in four departments, thanks to heavy individual contributions by amazing Oscar Robertson.

League statistics through last Sunday's games show Cincinnati ahead in total points, points per game, field goal percentage and assists. The Royals are second in rebounding and third in free throw percentage.

Robertson is the individual leader in foul shooting, with an .854 mark, in assists, with 683, and is second to San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain in the point race. The Big O is averaging 30.9 points per game; Wilt is hitting at a 36-point clip.

Luke Appling Joins Greats At Cooperstown

By MIKE BARRON

ATLANTA (AP) — Those "old aches and pains" which gave Luke Appling his nickname are gone. He's in the baseball Hall of Fame now.

"I feel just like I had hit a home run with the bases loaded with two out in the ninth in the seventh game of the World Series," said Appling, who set a major league record of 2,218 games at shortstop for the Chicago White Sox. "I tell you, I never felt better."

Appling, who batted over .300 in 16 of his 20 seasons, was elected to the Cooperstown, N.Y., Hall Monday on an unprecedented second ballot. Hy Hurwitz, secretary of the Baseball Writers Association of America, announced the results at Boston.

Appling thus joined fellow Georgian Ty Cobb, whom he once idolized. Cobb was the first player elected. Appling is the 39th elected by the baseball writers.

The one-time Atlanta schoolboy drew 189 votes on the 225 ballots submitted by authorized BBWAA members. A total of 169, or 75 per cent of the votes cast, is needed for election.

Charles (Red) Ruffing, a right-handed pitcher who gained his fame with the New York Yankees, failed to make it despite his 184 votes. Second ballot rules specify that if more than one player got more than 75 per cent, only the leader would be elected.

No Cardinal Regulars Have Signed '64 Pacts

By The Associated Press

There probably isn't a player on the St. Louis Cardinals who can carry Stan Musial's bat, but there's a long line of volunteers ready to lift his pocketbook.

With the official March 1 opening of spring training less than two weeks off, not one of the Cardinal regulars has signed his 1964 baseball contract.

The players, most already marked for raises since they contributed heavily to the Cardinals' second-place finish last season, apparently are shooting at Musial's pocketbook. For when Musial retired, his $50,000 salary went back into the Cardinals' bank.

The only front-liners signed by the Cardinals are pitchers Lew Burdette, Ray Sadecki and Ron Taylor, but they are being counted on mostly for spot duty or relief work. Still unsigned are the Big Three — Ernie Broglio, Curt Simmons and Bob Gibson — and No. 1 catcher, Tim McCarver.

The Cardinals' All-Star infield is unsigned from first baseman Bill White to second baseman Julian Javier to third baseman Ken Boyer to shortstop Dick Groat, and the top two outfielders, Curt Flood and Charlie James, still have not agreed to terms.

YOUNGSTOWN — The Salem High Quakers, winding up one of their worst seasons, record wise, were eliminated in the opening round of the Class AA Sectional here Monday night losing 85-52 to Youngstown Woodrow Wilson.

The loss left Salem with an overall 3-16 mark.

Wilson was paced by all-city center Rich Buzin, 6-5, who tallied 30 points.

Salem had a poor first half when Wilson went into an all-court press and led at halftime, 41-16.

George Begalla tossed in 18 points for Salem.

Beaver Local Teams Score Double Victory

Beaver Local teams scored a double victory Monday on the Beaver Public court.

The Beaver eighth grade team defeated United 35-19 with Bob Squires collecting 10 points.

The seventh grade outfit handed United a 41-26 setback with Dave Mason and Rich Squires scoring nine points each.

Manny Ycaza has been in the money three times in five Kentucky Derby rides but has never won the race.

ELHS-Weirton Game Looks Like Sellout

Only a few tickets remain on sale at Reese's Jewelers for the East Liverpool-Weirton game Friday night at Memorial Auditorium. The game probably will be a sellout and no tickets will be sold at the gate. Charles Deshler, ELHS athletic Director, said the MA can accommodate between 1,500-1,600 fans and extra seating has been arranged. Meanwhile, tickets for the ELHS-Toronto Sectional AA tournament game Monday at Steubenville are on sale at Reese's.

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

And just why did Providence, the National Invitation Tournament defending champion, turn down a bid by the NIT and accept one from the National Collegiate Athletic Association?

Well, athletic director, the Rev. A. B. Begley candidly pointed out, "It's the first time we had a chance to accept." Which means it's the first time the NCAA had ever picked Providence to fill one of the 10 at-large spots in its national tournament.

"We accepted the NCAA invitation," Begley said, "because we belong to the NCAA and it's our association championship."

The Friars, who had some early season uneasiness but now appear to have found the formula, were one of nine teams picked by the NCAA. Three more accepted bids to the NIT Monday as the two groups began their selections.

In addition to Providence, the NCAA selected defending champion Chicago Loyola, Villanova, Creighton, Texas Western, Louisville, Oregon State, Utah State and Seattle.

One more NCAA at-large team remains to be picked for the long string of eliminations that culminate in the national tournament at Kansas City March 20-21. The other 15 spots go to conference champions.

The NIT, which will be played in New York's Madison Square Garden March 12-21, picked DePaul, 16-2; Pitt, 14-6; and New York University, 11-5. Nine others will be selected later.

Providence, 17-3 after Monday night's 95-75 triumph over Scranton, and Villanova, ranked fifth nationally at 19-2, are in the NCAA Eastern regional along with Temple, Middle Atlantic champion, and the champions of the Yankee, Southern, Ivy and Atlantic Coast conferences.

Loyola, 15-5, and Louisville, 14-6, are in the Mideast with the conference champs from the Mid America, Ohio Valley, Southeastern and Big Ten.

The Midwest has Creighton, 19-5, Texas Western, 19-2, and winners from the Southwest, Missouri Valley, Big Eight and one more at-large team to be named.

The Far West has Oregon State, 21-3, Utah State, 17-3, Seattle, 16-4, and winners from the Western Athletic Conference, the Big Six and the West Coast Conference.

Regional first-round eliminations will be held in Philadelphia, Evanston, Ill., Dallas and Eugene, Ore. Teams with first-round byes are the champs from the Atlantic Coast, the Big Eight, the Southeastern, the Big Ten, the West Coast and the Big Six.

Regional championships are scheduled March 13-14 in Raleigh, N.C., Minneapolis, Wichita, Kan., and Corvallis, Ore.

Providence, which won only four of its first seven, celebrates its selection with its 13th straight triumph in the decision over Scranton. John Thompson and Jim Stone each had 25 points for the rampaging Friars who were never in serious trouble.

Probably the top attraction was Kentucky's 104-73 home triumph over Vanderbilt. Cotton Nash played one of the finest games of his career in sparking the victory that put the Wildcats in sole possession of first place with a 9-2 Southeastern record. Kentucky, ranked third in the nation, is 19-2 over-all.

Nash scored 32 points, stole the ball a dozen times, played a fine defensive game and controlled the offensive rebounds.

Bradds' 30 Leads OSU Over Iowa

By The Associated Press

Habits are hard to shake. And Ohio State has the Big Ten basketball championship habit—but it's Michigan that has to do the shaking.

The Wolverines must shake off the relentless pursuit of the surging Buckeyes.

Given up for lost after a 5-5 nonconference record and a 3-2 conference start, the Buckeyes made Iowa their fifth straight Big Ten victim Monday night, 99-82.

That puts the utmost pressure on Michigan, now looking a little less like a shoo-in for an unshared crown, as the Wolverines take the court against third place Minnesota tonight in Minneapolis.

Ohio State is now 8-2 with four conference games left, while Michigan is just a half-game up at 8-1 and could fall into a tie with the Bucks should Minnesota (6-3) halt the Wolverines. Ohio is after a piece of its fifth straight title.

Gary Bradds had 30 points Monday night, the first time in the last seven games the All-America scored under 40.

Ohio led 54-43 at the half and stayed at least eight points ahead thereafter. Jimmy Rodgers' 25 markers paced Iowa, now 2-6 in the league.

In other games involving Ohio schools, Toledo's disintegrating Rockets absorbed a 98-66 butchering at Duquesne, Akron (15-6) whipped Ashland 76-59, and Steubenville (12-7) trimmed St. Vincent at Latrobe, Pa., 68-62.

Bob Giegengack is in his 18th year as coach of the Yale track team. He formerly coached at Fordham.

Luke Appling Joins Greats At Cooperstown

By MIKE BARRON

ATLANTA (AP) — Those "old aches and pains" which gave Luke Appling his nickname are gone. He's in the baseball Hall of Fame now.

"I feel just like I had hit a home run with the bases loaded with two out in the ninth in the seventh game of the World Series," said Appling, who set a major league record of 2,218 games at shortstop for the Chicago White Sox. "I tell you, I never felt better."

Appling, who batted over .300 in 16 of his 20 seasons, was elected to the Cooperstown, N.Y., Hall Monday on an unprecedented second ballot. Hy Hurwitz, secretary of the Baseball Writers Association of America, announced the results at Boston.

Appling thus joined fellow Georgian Ty Cobb, whom he once idolized. Cobb was the first player elected. Appling is the 39th elected by the baseball writers.

The one-time Atlanta schoolboy drew 189 votes on the 225 ballots submitted by authorized BBWAA members. A total of 169, or 75 per cent of the votes cast, is needed for election.

Charles (Red) Ruffing, a right-handed pitcher who gained his fame with the New York Yankees, failed to make it despite his 184 votes. Second ballot rules specify that if more than one player got more than 75 per cent, only the leader would be elected.

No Cardinal Regulars Have Signed '64 Pacts

By The Associated Press

There probably isn't a player on the St. Louis Cardinals who can carry Stan Musial's bat, but there's a long line of volunteers ready to lift his pocketbook.

With the official March 1 opening of spring training less than two weeks off, not one of the Cardinal regulars has signed his 1964 baseball contract.

The players, most already marked for raises since they contributed heavily to the Cardinals' second-place finish last season, apparently are shooting at Musial's pocketbook. For when Musial retired, his $50,000 salary went back into the Cardinals' bank.

The only front-liners signed by the Cardinals are pitchers Lew Burdette, Ray Sadecki and Ron Taylor, but they are being counted on mostly for spot duty or relief work. Still unsigned are the Big Three — Ernie Broglio, Curt Simmons and Bob Gibson — and No. 1 catcher, Tim McCarver.

The Cardinals' All-Star infield is unsigned from first baseman Bill White to second baseman Julian Javier to third baseman Ken Boyer to shortstop Dick Groat, and the top two outfielders, Curt Flood and Charlie James, still have not agreed to terms.

Oscar's 45 Paces 12th Straight

By The Associated Press

Oscar Robertson, who doesn't seem to need much help, got some from a guy named Smith Monday night and the Cincinnati Royals made the San Francisco Warriors their 12th straight National Basketball Association patsies.

Adrian Smith came off the Royals' bench to assist the assist-master as Cincy ran away from the Warriors 129-113 at Cleveland, thereby cutting Boston's Eastern Division lead to 1½ games.

In the only other NBA game played, Baltimore employed a zone defense and a public relations campaign against St. Louis but the Hawks' late drive dumped the Bullets 115-110.

Smith's 16 points abetted Robby's 45 to offset the Warriors' Wilt Chamberlain, who poured in 52. The Royals' backcourt combination clicked for 22 assists—10 by Smith—as Cincinnati raced past the Warriors in the third quarter. When San Francisco closed to 86-84, Smith triggered a series of fast-break baskets that put the Royals out of reach.

At Baltimore, referee Norm Drucker hit the Bullets with a technical foul for playing a zone—illegal in the NBA—near the end of the third period. The call touched off a debate between the officials and Baltimore publicity director Jerry Krause, who wound up being ejected from his vantage point at the sideline table.

St. Louis took it from there, overcoming a 94-78 Baltimore lead in the final 12 minutes behind the clutch shooting of Richie Guerin and Charley Vaughn.

Three Teams Deadlocked For First Place In City League

A log jam formed in the City Basketball League Monday night when the Tri-State Reds upended previously undefeated Uncle Pete's, 82-79, to throw the loop into a three way tie.

The Tri-State five, George Bright's and Uncle Pete's are all deadlocked with 4-1 records.. Bright's got into its share of the tie with a 71-53 victory over Chester V. F. W.

In one other game, Bloor's Pharmacy scored a 67-51 decision over winless Robert's Sunoco.

In order to beat Uncle Pete's, which had a four game winning streak up until last night, the Reds had to stave off a late rally that saw the Wellsville five come from 20 points behind at halftime to almost catch the winners.

Tri-State led at intermission 48-28 but Uncle Pete's caught fire in the third quarter. Leading the Tri-State five was Jim Potts with 21 while Bob Zak the former Midland and Steubenville College standout, hooped 19. Jerry Murawski added 16 points to the attack.

Franklin Jackson was high for both teams with 22 while Bert Dorsey aded 18.

George Bright's walked out to a 33-20 halftime lead and coasted to victory over Chester VFW. A 24-point performance by Bevo Francis plus Herb Lake's 19 points effort and 18 by Roger Linville featured Bright's attack.

Frank Kenney and Dave Bell paced Chester with 23 and 19 respectively.

Bloor's Pharmacy won its second game in five starts as Willie Cook sizzled the nets for 26 points. Bloor's led at halftime, 37-22. Jim Pape, Beaver Local floor coach, sparked Robert's with 19.

Royals Show Top Offensive Club In NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — The top offensive machine in the National Basketball Association belongs to Cincinnati's streaking Royals.

The Ohioans, unbeaten in the last 12 games, including Monday night's 129-113 victory over San Francisco, lead the NBA in four departments, thanks to heavy individual contributions by amazing Oscar Robertson.

League statistics through last Sunday's games show Cincinnati ahead in total points, points per game, field goal percentage and assists. The Royals are second in rebounding and third in free throw percentage.

Robertson is the individual leader in foul shooting, with an .854 mark, in assists, with 683, and is second to San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain in the point race. The Big O is averaging 30.9 points per game; Wilt is hitting at a 36-point clip.

Dayton Belmont Retains No. 1 Spot

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

McKinley, Massillon Trail Leader

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The regular-season jockeying is out of the way, and Ohio's high school basketeers head into tournament play this week on an all-even basis.

Pre-tourney records go into the discard as the "lose-and-out" series starts. The big prizes will be decided March 21 at Ohio State's St. John Arena when the 1964 state champs are crowned.

Ohio's sports editors named their favorites today — Dayton Belmont in Class AA and Zanesville Rosecrans in Class A—as The Associated Press compiled its final poll. Forty-four sports editors voted in the final week's ratings.

Rosecrans, with an 18-game winning streak and victorious in its last 56 regular-season frays, eased past Celina Immaculate Conception in the final Class A rankings by a single eighth-place vote. The Celina team (19-1) had led all year.

Only change in the Class A Top Ten personnel came as Columbus University replaced Lakeside in 10th place despite the latter's 102-64 conquest over Woodville for a 15-1 record. University (17-1) made its first appearance in the select list by a single poll point over the upstate quintet.

The Class AA list was jumbled in the late going, the Top Ten winding up as a Top Eleven as Cleveland East Tech and Toledo Woodward tied for last place. Newark, Cleveland East and Akron North fell from the top group, and Cleveland Rhodes, Portsmouth, Toledo Woodward and Middletown's five - time losers moved in.

From here and there:

Youngstown Liberty, which reached the state Class A meet a few years ago, is now in Class AA and compiled the first unbeaten season in its history. Southeastern of Ross County, fifth in Class A, needed a double overtime to subdue Huntington 79-74 for its 19th straight.

Newark lost its opener, won 15 straight, then fell 65-54 before Chillicothe. Coach Mike Morrison of Racine, down on the Ohio River, has a 39-1 record for his two-year effort. His unbeaten team reached the district finals a year ago—and it is 18-0 this time. Athens, fifth in Class AA, boasts its first clean season (18-0) in history. Charles McAfee is the Athens mentor.

A week ago Cleveland Rhodes and Portsmouth were not in the Top Ten. Then Rhodes belted Cleveland East 67-57 for the city championship and leaped all the way to fourth place with a 17-0 record. And Portsmouth, although a 59-56 loser to Dayton Fairview for its third loss in 16 games, breezed into eighth place.

Coach Carl Alan Hamill, who led Fort Frye to the state tourney's Class A semifinals in 1962, may be back. His boys have an 18-0 record, the second clean mark in three seasons. Hamill's dad coached championship football, basketball and baseball teams at Weirton, W.Va., and is in that state's sports hall of fame.

Bill Heid, Dover St. Joseph's 6-foot-5 senior, scored 43 against Killbuck Friday—but St. Joe lost 83-75. Earlier in the campaign Lexington beat Clear Fork 94-50 and went on to a 19-game winning streak. Friday night Clear Fork, opening a new gymnasium, ended Lexington's string, 54-45.

Terry Simmons of Dover, like Heid of Dover St. Joe, had one of those frustrating nights. He scored 39 against Mansfield Madison—and Dover lost 84-81. Mansfield Senior lost four of 14 games in the Buckeye Conference by a total of eight points—but tied Lorain Admiral King for the crown.

Carl Assenheimer of Tiffin Columbian scored 39 against Bucyrus, and Tiffin needed all of them for a 65-62 conquest.

Dayton Belmont, the Class AA No. 1 nominee, whipped Toledo Libbey 85-64. Up to then Libbey had lost six—five by two points and the other by one.

Salem, usually a scholastic power, wound up with a 3-15 record and needed three overtimes to salvage the third victory, 71-64 over Youngstown East. But despite the losing campaign, Quaker fans filled the arenas to back their kids to the limit.

Dayton Belmont averaged 88.4 points in its City League games, breaking the old record by more than five. Don May averaged 24.8 and Bill Hosket 21 for the Bison.

The 61 points Phil Snow of Sabina scored in a losing effort against Blanchester (98-93) were not a Clinton County record. Willard Henry of Wayne (now Simon Kenton) set the mark at 64 back in 1932 against Clarksville when the center jump was in vogue and points more difficult to compile. Henry went on to Miami and co-captained the Redskin cagers with Walter (Smoky) Alston—and now Henry and his wife are teachers at Sabina.

The word is out to "Watch Middletown." Paul Walker's boys lost three of the first four —the opener by 21—but came on strong to win the rugged Greater Ohio League championship. Walker's son, Paul, who missed the first seven games with a fractured wrist, and Ed Hopkins —who wasn't on the preseason roster but was picked up from a Hi-Y team—have been the difference in the late splurge.

UCLA, Michigan Top Cage Ratings

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Villanova and DePaul, both selected for postseason tournaments, moved up in this week's Associated Press major-college basketball poll. The voting still is dominated by unbeaten UCLA followed by Michigan and Kentucky.

Duke and Oregon State also gained ground while Drake, the Missouri Valley Conference pace-setter, advanced to 10th place.

UCLA collected 35 first place votes and 376 points in the balloting by a special panel of 38 regional selectors. The Bruins beat Washington twice last week and upped their record to 21-0.

Michigan had one first place vote and 320 points and Kentucky polled 299 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. The Wolverines defeated Indiana 99-87 for a 17-2 record while Kentucky is 18-2 after whipping Mississippi State 65-59.

Duke's Blue Devils advanced one place to fourth with two first-place votes and 251 points. Duke is 17-3 after beating Virginia and Davidson.

Villanova moved up three places to fifth and DePaul climbed one notch to ninth. Villanova, 19-2 following victories over Duquesne and Canisius, was named as an at-large team to the NCAA tourney Monday. DePaul, 16-2 including last week's triumphs over Marquette and Western Ontario, accepted a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

Wichita remained sixth despite its 64-63 setback by Drake. Oregon State went from ninth to seventh following a 76-72 conquest of Seattle for a 21-3 record.

Davidson fell from fourth to eighth. The Wildcats lost to Furman and Duke last week.

Drake replaced Vanderbilt in the Top Ten on the strength of its victory over Wichita and a 17-4 record. Vandy, seventh a week ago, lost two games last week, 75-71 to Georgia Tech in overtime and 64-62 to Tennessee.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	UCLA (35)	376
2.	Michigan (1)	320
3.	Kentucky	299
4.	Duke (2)	251
5.	Villanova	164
6.	Wichita	139
7.	Oregon State	122
8.	Davidson	95
9.	DePaul	76
10.	Drake	47

Senator Urges Get Tough Policy With KC's Finley

By G. MILTON KELLY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., urged American League baseball today to get tough in its row with defiant Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics.

Finley is trying to move his club out of Kansas City in the face of counter-threats by the league to revoke his franchise and drive him out of baseball if he goes. Finley has retorted that he will sue if the league attempts any such crackdown.

Long spoke out in an interview in advance of hearings before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee which could bring Finley and American League President Joe Cronin face to face now or later, although the subcommittee's prime interest has nothing to do with the row.

The subcommittee is conducting hearings on legislation which would grant uniform antitrust law execptions to pro football, basketball and ice hockey as well as to baseball, which is the only one of the four sports now enjoying such exemptions.

The subcommittee's chairman, Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Cronin and National League President Warren Giles were the only scheduled witnesses, because Finley had not even answered invitations to testify. Hart said Finley would be granted a hearing if he did show up. Giles is not involved in the American League row.

Long, a subcommittee member, said baseball would sacrifice any right to antitrust law exemptions if it fails to enforce its expired ultimatum to Finley. It had given him until last Saturday midnight to arrange to keep the team in Kansas City or face possible loss of his franchise.

"If they don't have the authority or the will power to regulate a member of their establishment who would so disregard the welfare of the sport and its fans," Long said, "it becomes obvious to me that baseball is a business and should be regulated as any other business. It definitely would be subject to the antitrust laws."

Majors Question Players Piloting Own Airplanes

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jolted by the airplane crash that killed Chicago Cub second baseman Ken Hubbs, some major league baseball clubs have started to grapple with the far-reaching question:

Should players be permitted to pilot their own planes?

In response to a survey by The Associated Press, only the Boston Red Sox said they had an "understanding" barring players from holding pilot licenses. But St. Louis, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh and Kansas City said they were reviewing a problem that has two edges.

While admitting the problem was serious, the clubs indicated it was difficult to establish a firm policy since it might be construed as an infringement on a player's rights. The clubs also pointed that to their knowledge none of their players had pilot licenses.

A Red Sox spokesman said there is no clause in their contract barring pilots, but "there is an understanding that no player will be a pilot. It has never come up. No player has had any inclination to get a pilot's license."

The spokesman said the Red Sox were prompted to establish the policy in 1956 after Tom Gastall, former Boston University athlete who signed with Baltimore for a $40,000 bonus, disappeared in his private plane on a flight over Chesapeake Bay.

Gastall and Hubbs, 1962 National League Rookie of the Year who crashed while piloting a plane near Provo, Utah, are the only players on record to have died while flying their own aircraft.

Dayton Belmont Retains No. 1 Spot

★ ★ ★ McKinley, Massillon Trail Leader ★ ★ ★

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The regular-season jockeying is out of the way, and Ohio's high school basketeers head into tournament play this week on an all-even basis.

Pre-tourney records go into the discard as the "lose-and-out" series starts. The big prizes will be decided March 21 at Ohio State's St. John Arena when the 1964 state champs are crowned.

Ohio's sports editors named their favorites today — Dayton Belmont in Class AA and Zanesville Rosecrans in Class A—as The Associated Press compiled its final poll. Forty-four sports editors voted in the final week's ratings.

Rosecrans, with an 18-game winning streak and victorious in its last 56 regular-season frays, eased past Celina Immaculate Conception in the final Class A rankings by a single eighth-place vote. The Celina team (19-1) had led all year.

Only change in the Class A Top Ten personnel came as Columbus University replaced Lakeside in 10th place despite the latter's 102-64 conquest over Woodville for a 15-1 record. University (17-1) made its first appearance in the select list by a single poll point over the upstate quintet.

The Class AA list was jumbled in the late going, the Top Ten winding up as a Top Eleven as Cleveland East Tech and Toledo Woodward tied for last place. Newark, Cleveland East and Akron North fell from the top group, and Cleveland Rhodes, Portsmouth, Toledo Woodward and Middletown's five - time losers moved in.

From here and there:

Youngstown Liberty, which reached the state Class A meet a few years ago, is now in Class AA and compiled the first unbeaten season in its history. Southeastern of Ross County, fifth in Class A, needed a double overtime to subdue Huntington 79-74 for its 19th straight.

Newark lost its opener, won 15 straight, then fell 65-54 before Chillicothe. Coach Mike Morrison of Racine, down on the Ohio River, has a 39-1 record for his two-year effort. His unbeaten team reached the district finals a year ago—and it is 18-0 this time. Athens, fifth in Class AA, boasts its first clean season (18-0) in history. Charles McAfee is the Athens mentor.

A week ago Cleveland Rhodes and Portsmouth were not in the Top Ten. Then Rhodes belted Cleveland East 67-57 for the city championship and leaped all the way to fourth place with a 17-0 record. And Portsmouth, although a 59-56 loser to Dayton Fairview for its third loss in 16 games, breezed into eighth place.

Coach Carl Alan Hamill, who led Fort Frye to the state tourney's Class A semifinals in 1962, may be back. His boys have an 18-0 record, the second clean mark in three seasons. Hamill's dad coached championship football, basketball and baseball teams at Weirton, W.Va., and is in that state's sports hall of fame.

Bill Heid, Dover St. Joseph's 6-foot-5 senior, scored 43 against Killbuck Friday—but St. Joe lost 83-75. Earlier in the campaign Lexington beat Clear Fork 94-50 and went on to a 19-game winning streak. Friday night Clear Fork, opening a new gymnasium, ended Lexington's string, 54-45.

Terry Simmons of Dover, like Heid of Dover St. Joe, had one of those frustrating nights. He scored 39 against Mansfield Madison—and Dover lost 84-81. Mansfield Senior lost four of 14 games in the Buckeye Conference by a total of eight points—but tied Lorain Admiral King for the crown.

Carl Assenheimer of Tiffin Columbian scored 39 against Bucyrus, and Tiffin needed all of them for a 65-62 conquest.

Dayton Belmont, the Class AA No. 1 nominee, whipped Toledo Libbey 85-64. Up to then Libbey had lost six—five by two points and the other by one.

Salem, usually a scholastic power, wound up with a 3-15 record and needed three overtimes to salvage the third victory, 71-64 over Youngstown East. But despite the losing campaign, Quaker fans filled the arenas to back their kids to the limit.

Dayton Belmont averaged 88.4 points in its City League games, breaking the old record by more than five. Don May averaged 24.8 and Bill Hosket 21 for the Bison.

The 61 points Phil Snow of Sabina scored in a losing effort against Blanchester (98-93) were not a Clinton County record. Willard Henry of Wayne (now Simon Kenton) set the mark at 64 back in 1932 against Clarksville when the center jump was in vogue and points more difficult to compile. Henry went on to Miami and co-captained the Redskin cagers with Walter (Smoky) Alston—and now Henry and his wife are teachers at Sabina.

The word is out to "Watch Middletown." Paul Walker's boys lost three of the first four —the opener by 21—but came on strong to win the rugged Greater Ohio League championship. Walker's son, Paul, who missed the first seven games with a fractured wrist, and Ed Hopkins —who wasn't on the preseason roster but was picked up from a Hi-Y team—have been the difference in the late splurge.

UCLA, Michigan Top Cage Ratings

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Villanova and DePaul, both selected for postseason tournaments, moved up in this week's Associated Press major-college basketball poll. The voting still is dominated by unbeaten UCLA followed by Michigan and Kentucky.

Duke and Oregon State also gained ground while Drake, the Missouri Valley Conference pace-setter, advanced to 10th place.

UCLA collected 35 first place votes and 376 points in the balloting by a special panel of 38 regional selectors. The Bruins beat Washington twice last week and upped their record to 21-0.

Michigan had one first place vote and 320 points and Kentucky polled 299 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. The Wolverines defeated Indiana 99-87 for a 17-2 record while Kentucky is 18-2 after whipping Mississippi State 65-59.

Duke's Blue Devils advanced one place to fourth with two first-place votes and 251 points. Duke is 17-3 after beating Virginia and Davidson.

Villanova moved up three places to fifth and DePaul climbed one notch to ninth. Villanova, 19-2 following victories over Duquesne and Canisius, was named as an at-large team to the NCAA tourney Monday. DePaul, 16-2 including last week's triumphs over Marquette and Western Ontario, accepted a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

Wichita remained sixth despite its 64-63 setback by Drake. Oregon State went from ninth to seventh following a 76-72 conquest of Seattle for a 21-3 record.

Davidson fell from fourth to eighth. The Wildcats lost to Furman and Duke last week.

Drake replaced Vanderbilt in the Top Ten on the strength of its victory over Wichita and a 17-4 record. Vandy, seventh a week ago, lost two games last week, 75-71 to Georgia Tech in overtime and 64-62 to Tennessee.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	UCLA (35)	376
2.	Michigan (1)	320
3.	Kentucky	299
4.	Duke (2)	251
5.	Villanova	164
6.	Wichita	139
7.	Oregon State	122
8.	Davidson	95
9.	DePaul	76

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My father died when I was a child. My mother, in her attempt to be both mother and father, never allowed me to make a decision. When I tried to do something on my own things always seemed to turn out badly. Mother never failed to remind me that "next time" I should listen to her.

I grew up feeling hopelessly addle-brained and incompetent. Today, even though I'm the mother of four children, I still torture myself over whether I bought the right dress yesterday. Maybe it should have been the green one. Or did I say the correct thing at the PTA meeting. Perhaps I should have remained silent.

The point of my letter is this: The quality I most admire in your column is the very quality which is woefully lacking in myself—the ability to get to the heart of a problem, make a quick decision and never look back. How do you do it?—MRS. MAYBE.

Dear Maybe: Thanks for the compliment, but those "quick decisions" represent more hours than I care to admit. The reply that sounds totally effortless is the one I struggled with all day.

You are right about never looking back, however, I do my level best with each reply. Then I close the door and go on to the next one. Post-mortems are for coroners—not columnists.

One Man's Problem

Dear Ann: I'm a man with a problem. My wife is 37 years old. We have three lovely children. Everything is fine, except that my wife has lost interest in sex.

She is a wonderful wife and mother, gets along fine with my family and the neighbors. Everybody thinks she is a grand person.

I tried to talk to her about this problem last week. She said she loves me as much as ever, but she'll soon be 40 and sex is for younger people.

Do you think something might be wrong with her physically? She goes to the doctor every year for a checkup and appears to be in excellent health. Please advise me.—BILL.

Dear Bill: Any doctor will tell you that the vast majority of men and women who lose interest in sex at a relatively early age (and 37 is early) have mental problems, not physical problems.

Opinion Requested

Dear Ann: This may sound too inane to print but it has been on my mind for a long time and I'd appreciate your opinion.

The question: When is it proper to sign "Love" to a letter or card? Over the holidays we received several cards and some handwritten notes signed "Love" from casual friends and people to whom we are not related.

When I was a high school girl, if a fellow signed "Love" to a note or a letter, I walked around with my head in the clouds for days. I myself never would sign "Love" to a card or a letter unless I felt very close to a person. Comment, please.—SINCERELY YOURS.

Dear Sincerely: A letter signed "Love" does not necessarily mean "I love you" any more than a letter signed "Yours truly" means "I'm truly yours."

The word "Love" is intended to convey a feeling of warmth, which does not come through in the employment of "Sincerely."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"New Nationwide life plan protects entire family for slightly more than it costs to insure yourself alone"

LET'S SAY there are five in your family. You're 32, your wife is 28, and you have three children. You can insure your life for $10,000 Whole Life, your wife's for an initial amount of $4,000 and each of the three children for $1,000 (new babies are covered automatically after 15 days, no extra charge) with Nationwide's new Family Plan. Total monthly premium: $20.69.

That's only $1.72 a month more than you'd pay for a $10,000 life insurance policy on yourself alone. How come? It costs Nationwide less to handle one policy than a bunch of them. We pass the savings on to you. Call about the Family Plan today.

Man Injured At Job; 2 Hurt At Skating

Elmer White, 52, of 137 W. 4th St., employe of the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co., was treated late last night for a laceration of the scalp suffered when a piece of steel struck him while building a door frame at work.

Alan Casto, 14, son of Orville Casto of Irondale R. D. 1, suffered a fractured arm in a fall while skating at the Frischkorn rink.

John Davidson, 14, son of Fred Davidson of Hammondsville, received a fractured right thumb in a fall at the rink.

Catherine McKinnon, 17, daughter of Robert McKinnon, 1060 Oak St., was treated for an injury to the large toe of the right foot received in a fall in gym class.

In a fall against a radiator at home, Dennis Giambroni, 5, son of Andrew Giambroni, 325 W. 3rd St., suffered a laceration of the forehead.

Gary Linger, 17, son of Charles Linger of Georgetown R. D., suffered an injury of the right foot on which an auto motor fell.

Mrs. Thelma Miller of Russell Heights, Wellsville, received a fractured wrist and bruises of the back in a fall in the driveway at home.

VFW At Chester Aids School Fund

A contribution of $150 for the Chester school guard fund was authorized at a meeting of VFW Post 6450 Monday night at the post home.

The money is used to provide salary for the guard at Carolina Ave. and 6th St.

The post authorized purchase of $50 advertisement in the Oak Glen High School yearbook, and approved $25 for the school Forsenic League for competition at Morgantown April 2-4.

Virgil Septer of Hookstown was enrolled as a member. Lunch was served 14 by William Glover and George Allison, commander. A stag party will be held March 2.

Next meeting will be March 16.

Car's Door Damaged In Walnut St. Mishap

The door of a Midland man's parked auto was damaged Monday at 4:50 p. m. when he opened it into the path of a Chester woman's auto on Walnut St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1957 model two-door sedan driven by Andrew Wasely Jr., 40, of 11th St., Midland, and a northbound 1959 four-door sedan operated by Anna A. Cochran, 58, of 327 Maxwell Ave., Chester.

Wasely told police he had parked his auto and opened the door when it was hit by the Cochran car. The woman driver said the car opened into her path so quickly she could not avoid it.

3 Motorists Forfeit In Arrests At Lisbon

LISBON — Three motorists forfeited appearance bonds in Mayor Dean Stockman's court Monday. They were:

Jerry Lucketti Jr., 29, of Grindstone, Pa. $20 for crossing a yellow line, cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Charles W. Roberts, 63, of Maple St., Ext., $15 for passing at an intersection, and Francy J. Hill, 36, of R. D. 2, $15 for driving left of center. Both were cited by police after collisions in Lisbon.

Club To Hear Bettis

LISBON — Atty. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, member of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission, will be guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday noon at the Masonic Temple. He will speak on "The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio." Adam Rudibaugh is program chairman.

Teen-Age Shoplifters Barred From Stores

Two teen-age girls, 16 and 17, were barred from entering East Liverpool stores unless accompanied by an adult at hearings before Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court at Lisbon. They Monday on shoplifting charges were arrested Thursday after thefts in a shoe store.

Both must remain at home outside of school hours for the next 30 days and apologize personally to operators of three stores in which they admitted thefts. The 16-year-old will be sent to the private school of the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Xenia if she can be enrolled.

Keep In Trim

Pinch Test Spots Waist Trouble

When the waist wanders...all is not lost. You can cope with it more or less easily. But first get a line on whether it's excess fat or merely flabby muscle you're dealing with.

Ida Jean Kain

This pinch test tells. Place hands on either side of your natural waistline, with thumbs and forefingers encircling the waist area. See how much fat you can pick up at either side. If it is more than a half inch of three - quarters at the most ... excess fat is padding the waist.

Another test is to take a deep pinch of fat covering the lower ribs at the sides. If the span between the thumb and forefingers is more than one inch, the layer of subcutaneous fat is on too thick...solid evidence of overweight.

NOW, ONE FINAL test. How does your waistband feel and fit 20 minutes after dinner? When it is too tight for comfort, and you are forced to let it out a notch, you've eaten too much dinner. Tonight, get up from the table just short of that full feeling, for that is the way to cut appetite down to right size. Once away from the sight, taste and aroma of food, you are not tempted to continue eating to belt bulging proportions. Twenty minutes later the physiologcial effect of the meal begins to take hold and you feel comfortably satisfied and happy that you did not overeat.

If your weight is within normal range, and you still cannot pass these streamlined pinch tests, then flabby musculature is to blame for the wandering waistline. Exercise, by restoring tone to the muscles which wrap crisscross around the sides of the silhouette, slims and shapes the waist. The following exercise — a favorite of mine — reaches the right sets of muscles:

Position: Stand on knees, then sit back on heels...have arms out at sides, shoulder level. Pull up and in snugly with the brace of abdominal muscles and hold throughout the exercise.

ACTION: Slowly bend toward the right side...aim at touching right fingers to floor, but at the same time stretch up with the left fingers. The upstretch of the left hand is even more important than the down stretch. Come back to position, bend to the left and stretch again. Repeat six times, later more. Always maintain a firm up - and-in pull with the girdle muscles; otherwise all slimming bets are off.

To increase the stretch-bend action, stand on knees and repeat the same exercise, again bending toward one side, touching fingers to floor, and stretching by reaching up with the fingers of the opposite hand. In this exercise do not let the hips jut out rearward ... keep pulling up firmly with the abdominal muscles.

These tone - ups, taken regularly, can clip a half inch off the waist in a week.

Send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for Away With The Middle Spread. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Pupils Give Program At Summitville PTA

SUMMITVILLE — A talent program was presented by third through eighth grade pupils at a meeting of the Franklin School Parent - Teacher Organization Monday night. The teachers were in charge.

Some 150 attended. The attendance banner was won by the fifth and sixth grades. The PTO voted to send A. J. Booth, cubmaster, and Peter Marra Jr., scoutmaster, and their wives to a county Boy Scout dinner.

Fifth and sixth grade home-room mothers served refreshments. Next meeting will be March 16.

Wasely told police he had parked his auto and opened the door when it was hit by the Cochran car. The woman driver said the car opened into her path so quickly she could not avoid it.

Teen-Age Shoplifters Barred From Stores

Two teen-age girls, 16 and 17, were barred from entering East Liverpool stores unless accompanied by an adult at hearings before Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court at Lisbon. They Monday on shoplifting charges were arrested Thursday after thefts in a shoe store.

Both must remain at home outside of school hours for the next 30 days and apologize personally to operators of three stores in which they admitted thefts. The 16-year-old will be sent to the private school of the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Xenia if she can be enrolled.

Pinch Test Spots Waist Trouble

When the waist wanders...all is not lost. You can cope with it more or less easily. But first get a line on whether it's excess fat or merely flabby muscle you're dealing with.

Ida Jean Kain

This pinch test tells. Place hands on either side of your natural waistline, with thumbs and forefingers encircling the waist area. See how much fat you can pick up at either side. If it is more than a half inch of three - quarters at the most ... excess fat is padding the waist.

Another test is to take a deep pinch of fat covering the lower ribs at the sides. If the span between the thumb and forefingers is more than one inch, the layer of subcutaneous fat is on too thick...solid evidence of overweight.

NOW, ONE FINAL test. How does your waistband feel and fit 20 minutes after dinner? When it is too tight for comfort, and you are forced to let it out a notch, you've eaten too much dinner. Tonight, get up from the table just short of that full feeling, for that is the way to cut appetite down to right size. Once away from the sight, taste and aroma of food, you are not tempted to continue eating to belt bulging proportions. Twenty minutes later the physiologcial effect of the meal begins to take hold and you feel comfortably satisfied and happy that you did not overeat.

If your weight is within normal range, and you still cannot pass these streamlined pinch tests, then flabby musculature is to blame for the wandering waistline. Exercise, by restoring tone to the muscles which wrap crisscross around the sides of the silhouette, slims and shapes the waist. The following exercise — a favorite of mine — reaches the right sets of muscles:

Position: Stand on knees, then sit back on heels...have arms out at sides, shoulder level. Pull up and in snugly with the brace of abdominal muscles and hold throughout the exercise.

ACTION: Slowly bend toward the right side...aim at touching right fingers to floor, but at the same time stretch up with the left fingers. The upstretch of the left hand is even more important than the down stretch. Come back to position, bend to the left and stretch again. Repeat six times, later more. Always maintain a firm up - and-in pull with the girdle muscles; otherwise all slimming bets are off.

To increase the stretch-bend action, stand on knees and repeat the same exercise, again bending toward one side, touching fingers to floor, and stretching by reaching up with the fingers of the opposite hand. In this exercise do not let the hips jut out rearward ... keep pulling up firmly with the abdominal muscles.

These tone - ups, taken regularly, can clip a half inch off the waist in a week.

Council Promises

More Study Due On Traffic Light

Council will make a further study of the need for a traffic light at Pennsylvania and Virginia Aves., President George E. Willshaw told a delegation which appeared Monday night to protest the fact the signal at the East End intersection has been taken out of service, at least temporarily.

The signal, erected in 1963 to ease flow of traffic off Virginia Ave. onto the main thoroughfare, was turned off recently after Council decided it was more of a deterrent than an aid to the flow of autos. It had been erected originally on a 90 - day trial basis.

THE delegation which appeared last night repeated substantially the same arguments given Council at the meeting Feb. 3. The spokesmen insisted particularly that it is virtually impossible for an auto or a truck to pull onto Pennsylvania Ave. from Virginia Ave. when the signal is not working.

First to speak was Robert Birch of the Birch Equipment & Supply Co. He asked why Council decided the light was necessary late in 1963, then reversed itself within a few months.

"My constituents don't like it," Councilman Floyd Murray replied. "But Council is trying to work out a solution. As far as I'm concerned, it can stay off."

"Several members of Council are making a further investigation and I feel we will have another report," Willshaw told Birch.

"THAT LIGHT wasn't put up until last year," Murray said. "How did these companies survive all those years before the light was installed. If we can find a satisfactory solution, I will agree to it. Now that light backs up traffic in long lines on Pennsylvania Ave."

Paul Calhoun, superintendent of the American Vitrified Products Co. plant, was next to speak. He pointed out he wrote a letter to Council two weeks ago praising the action in installing the signal and commenting that "at last the city has done something to assist industry."

He said a traffic count showed 1,100 vehicles use the intersection in an eight - hour day.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey read a letter from the Patterson Division of Patterson Industries, Inc., protesting removal of the light. The letter said if the light remains out of service it will "create a traffic hazard and a high accident rate area."

The letter was signed by Richard Woodrow, general sales manager. It was received and filed.

BIRCH also requested that Council take steps to implement legislation enacted last year dedicating ground for extension of Railroad St. to the east. Murray replied he is certain the proper legislation has been enacted. He said he will check with Engineer George Bloomgren and Solicitor Joseph Cooper.

Council filed two letters from the Board of Public Utilities renewing a request for legislation to clear the way for adding fluorides to the city water supply as a way of reducing tooth decay.

Signed by W. O. Schneider, chairman of the board, the letters asked legislation authorizing the fluoride program and a $2,500 appropriation to buy the necessary equipment — a chemical feed unit, scales and recorder. The annual cost of chemicals was estimated at $1,-500.

Schneider pointed out a similar request was made last May 4.

The planning committee was asked to study "articles of cooperation" and bylaws proposed by the Regional Planning Commission, with which the city is affiliated.

Councilman Donald Hancock, reporting for the claims committee, said it has agreed to pay $41.25 to Marjorie Birbeck, 1831 Ephriam St., for injuries and damages allegedly resulting when her auto struck a protruding water box cover Sept. 3 on Laura Ave. She had filed a claim for $82.50.

The claims committee was given a $70 bill from Dr. Alex S. Fisher for expenses in clearing a blocked sewer outside his office at 321 W. 5th St. Dr. Fisher said the plumbing in his office was blocked Jan. 25, but investigation showed the stoppage was in the city's sewer in Persimmon Alley.

Murray, reporting for the street committee, said it has approved a request for installation of a street light on Reynolds St., Beechwood. He said the committee felt a request for another light on Dresden Ave. "was not justified." However, he asked Councilman William Davis of the Fourth Ward to make a separate investigation.

VODREY SAID the Thompson Park Commission, which administers city - owned riverfront property, has requested establishment of a "no parking tow - away zone" on the ramp that leads from River Rd. to the docks at the foot of Broadway. The request was referred to the street committee.

Davis suggested that extra copies of legislation be printed for each meeting and distributed to members of the audience so they will be able to follow the action on the floor. The suggestion was referred to the planning committee.

Davis also suggested restoration of a rule that formerly allowed a right turn on red for eastbound traffic approaching a signal at W. 8th and Jefferson Sts. and wishing to turn right off W. 8th onto Jefferson.

He said the "right on red" rule was removed a few years ago because many children used the intersection to walk to Westgate School. But youngsters now have a separate ramp leading to the school and the traffic light rule could be instituted again without danger, he said.

He also asked an investigation to decide if changes should be made in a stop sign on the south side of Monroe St. at W. 6th St. Both proposals were given to the street committee.

WSCS Of Elkton Church To Meet

Search Goes On For Lost Plane With 4 Aboard

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Civil Air Patrol said it would continue a search over Northern Ohio for some trace of a twin-engine plane that disappeared Saturday with four persons aboard.

"We'll keep looking until we're told to stop or something turns up," Lt. Col. Harry Rouch CAP mission commander at Akron, said Monday night.

Ninth District Coast Guard headquarters here said an aerial search over western Lake Erie Sunday and Monday failed to turn up anything, and no further Coast Guard search was planned.

The plane was last heard from at 8:40 a.m. Saturday in a routine radio contact with the Windsor, Ont., Airport shortly after taking off from Detroit City Airport.

The plane, piloted by James Mixon, 40, of Atlanta, Ga., was headed for Akron-Canton Airport. Passengers on the chartered plane were George Drake, 43, a Wilton, Conn., real estate developer; Harry E. Black, 47, of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., real estate representative for the S. S. Kresge Co., and Black's son, Edward, 12.

2 On Missing Plane Visited Here Friday

The pilot and one of the passengers on the twin - engine plane being hunted in the northern Ohio area visited East Liverpool Friday afternoon during their survey of possible sites for Kresge retail stores, it was disclosed today.

Standley T. Hilbert of the Hilbert Insurance Agency said the pilot, James Mixon of Atlanta, Ga., and George Drake, a Wilton (Conn.) real estate developer, had conferred with him on locations in the area.

They took off from the Herron Airport near Pughtown about 7:15 p.m. Friday, with the use of flares, en route to Detroit.

Hilbert said the two men had visited East Liverpool previously — last Nov. 23 — on a similar business trip.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To remove those stubborn black marks from floors (caused by composition heels or casters, etc.), rub with a fine steel wool which has been dipped in a liquid cleaning wax. Polish immediately with a soft clean cloth.

On asphalt tile, rub gently with a clean cloth dipped in a self-polishing wax, then just blend the wax over the cleaned area and let it dry.

And here is another one about water spots:

Rinse your floor throughly after scrubbing before you apply self-polishing wax. Otherwise the cleaning solution will leave a deposit that will mix with the wax and make it less water resistant.

-:-

FOR THOSE who find no shine on their kitchen floor coverings, and if it's very porous —such as worn inlaid linoleum —it may be that you will not get a high shine when you apply self-polishing wax the first time.

Try a second application— very thin — and do not rub it in. But the most important part of this is to wait at least four hours to give the first coat time to dry thoroughly before applying the second one.

And Heloise, many people don't do enough polishing after applying a wax which does not dry shiny (paste waxes, etc.) because they think a high shine is dangerous. Quite the contrary.

ORDINARILY, the more polishing you do, the safer the finish. The more you buff, the harder and dryer the surface becomes.

If you use only waxes that dry shiny, be sure you apply them according to directions. Good quality wax always properly applied — and properly mainatined floors are important factors in safety.

LUCILLE BUSH.

DEAR HELOISE: Are mothers tired of tying shoe laces? What about the little kiddies every minute, "Mommy, my shoe is united. . ."

Well, try lacing elastic (the thin round type) in backwards from the top of the child's shoe to the bottom. . . then sewing or tying the ends together. I use this for all my gym shoes. It saves those minutes during the "game."

"ME."

DEAR HELOISE: I have two lovely electric clocks, but can't stand bare cords hanging down the walls. Recently, I taped some artificial vines and sweetpeas to the cords and the effect is delightful!

Everyone enjoys the scenery now . . . the beautiful vines completely hide those awful cords.

MARGIE KLINE.

Listen, ladies, my husband just had a terrific idea! (Once in awhile, husbands do you know!)

When you buy a plumber's friend (what I call my "housewife's friend") have your husband put an extra-long handle on the end of it! This may be taken from an old broom or mop.

He can take his pocket knife or a saw, and saw a ridge around the end of the part he had cut off so that it will screw into the rubber gadget. This way, when you wash clothes in the bathtub you've got a long handle. No stooping over! Saves your back.

Now, why doesn't some manufacturer put a long handle the length of our broom, on a "plumber's friend"? Wow!

HELOISE.

Dear Heloise: For those who have pecans starting to spoil (when they get a big supply), here is my easy solution:

Put them in plastic bags right after shelling them and then put them in your freezer. They keep from year to year (that is, from one pecan season to the next).

MRS. F. R. HAEUSER.

DEAR HELOISE: I use instant pudding to make nourishing popsicles for my children. Wonderful! Just prepare according to directions on box and freeze.

Man Barely Escapes Fire In Car Interior

The interior of a 1958 sedan was destroyed and the driver barely had time to escape from the burning car late Monday afternoon, firemen reported.

Driving the two - door car owned by Charlotte Woodruff, Harry Pinkerton turned off St. Clair Ave. into Burton Alley and just had time to shut the door. The entire interior was in flames.

Firemen said the cause of the fire was undetermined but it started in the seats. The alarm was received at 4:40 p. m.

The department was called to the Econo - Wash Laundry, 930 State St., at 11 a. m. yesterday when a washer caught fire. Firemen said the washer was overloaded and dirty.

Church To Vote On Aspirant For Pulpit Vacancy

A congregational meeting will be held Thursday night at the First Church of Christ to vote on the Rev. E. C. Traylor of Kennett, Mo., as the new minister.

Rev. Traylor has been recommended by the Official Board.

The meeting will begin with coffee and cake at 7 p. m. in the social rooms. The congregation will go to the sanctuary at 8:30 p. m. for the remainder of the business and the voting.

A graduate of Cincinnati Bible Seminary, he has served pastorates at Junction City, Ky., Ironton, Zanesville and Kennett.

He spent almost 16 years at Zanesville and has been at Kennett since June 1961. Rev. Traylor has been engaged in marriage counseling and has been active in civic affairs. He is a member of the Masons, the United Commercial Travelers and the Grange.

He also has served on the Board of Ohio Christian Missionary Society for three years. The vacancy resulted from the resignation of John Mostoller, who took a new charge at Cameron, W. Va.

Council Promises

More Study Due On Traffic Light

Council will make a further study of the need for a traffic light at Pennsylvania and Virginia Aves., President George E. Willshaw told a delegation which appeared Monday night to protest the fact the signal at the East End intersection has been taken out of service, at least temporarily.

The signal, erected in 1963 to ease flow of traffic off Virginia Ave. onto the main thoroughfare, was turned off recently after Council decided it was more of a deterrent than an aid to the flow of autos. It had been erected originally on a 90 - day trial basis.

Search Goes On For Lost Plane With 4 Aboard

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Civil Air Patrol said it would continue a search over Northern Ohio for some trace of a twin-engine plane that disappeared Saturday with four persons aboard.

"We'll keep looking until we're told to stop or something turns up," Lt. Col. Harry Rouch CAP mission commander at Akron, said Monday night.

Ninth District Coast Guard headquarters here said an aerial search over western Lake Erie Sunday and Monday failed to turn up anything, and no further Coast Guard search was planned.

The plane was last heard from at 8:40 a.m. Saturday in a routine radio contact with the Windsor, Ont., Airport shortly after taking off from Detroit City Airport.

The plane, piloted by James Mixon, 40, of Atlanta, Ga., was headed for Akron-Canton Airport. Passengers on the chartered plane were George Drake, 43, a Wilton, Conn., real estate developer; Harry E. Black, 47, of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., real estate representative for the S. S. Kresge Co., and Black's son, Edward, 12.

2 On Missing Plane Visited Here Friday

The pilot and one of the passengers on the twin - engine plane being hunted in the northern Ohio area visited East Liverpool Friday afternoon during their survey of possible sites for Kresge retail stores, it was disclosed today.

Standley T. Hilbert of the Hilbert Insurance Agency said the pilot, James Mixon of Atlanta, Ga., and George Drake, a Wilton (Conn.) real estate developer, had conferred with him on locations in the area.

They took off from the Herron Airport near Pughtown about 7:15 p.m. Friday, with the use of flares, en route to Detroit.

Hilbert said the two men had visited East Liverpool previously — last Nov. 23 — on a similar business trip.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To remove those stubborn black marks from floors (caused by composition heels or casters, etc.), rub with a fine steel wool which has been dipped in a liquid cleaning wax. Polish immediately with a soft clean cloth.

On asphalt tile, rub gently with a clean cloth dipped in a self-polishing wax, then just blend the wax over the cleaned area and let it dry.

And here is another one about water spots:

Rinse your floor throughly after scrubbing before you apply self-polishing wax. Otherwise the cleaning solution will leave a deposit that will mix with the wax and make it less water resistant.

-:-

FOR THOSE who find no shine on their kitchen floor coverings, and if it's very porous —such as worn inlaid linoleum —it may be that you will not get a high shine when you apply self-polishing wax the first time.

Try a second application— very thin — and do not rub it in. But the most important part of this is to wait at least four hours to give the first coat time to dry thoroughly before applying the second one.

And Heloise, many people don't do enough polishing after applying a wax which does not dry shiny (paste waxes, etc.) because they think a high shine is dangerous. Quite the contrary.

ORDINARILY, the more polishing you do, the safer the finish. The more you buff, the harder and dryer the surface becomes.

If you use only waxes that dry shiny, be sure you apply them according to directions. Good quality wax always properly applied — and properly mainatined floors are important factors in safety.

LUCILLE BUSH.

DEAR HELOISE: Are mothers tired of tying shoe laces? What about the little kiddies every minute, "Mommy, my shoe is united. . ."

Well, try lacing elastic (the thin round type) in backwards from the top of the child's shoe to the bottom. . . then sewing or tying the ends together. I use this for all my gym shoes. It saves those minutes during the "game."

"ME."

DEAR HELOISE: I have two lovely electric clocks, but can't stand bare cords hanging down the walls. Recently, I taped some artificial vines and sweetpeas to the cords and the effect is delightful!

Everyone enjoys the scenery now . . . the beautiful vines completely hide those awful cords.

MARGIE KLINE.

Listen, ladies, my husband just had a terrific idea! (Once in awhile, husbands do you know!)

When you buy a plumber's friend (what I call my "housewife's friend") have your husband put an extra-long handle on the end of it! This may be taken from an old broom or mop.

He can take his pocket knife or a saw, and saw a ridge around the end of the part he had cut off so that it will screw into the rubber gadget. This way, when you wash clothes in the bathtub you've got a long handle. No stooping over! Saves your back.

Now, why doesn't some manufacturer put a long handle the length of our broom, on a "plumber's friend"? Wow!

HELOISE.

Dear Heloise: For those who have pecans starting to spoil (when they get a big supply), here is my easy solution:

Put them in plastic bags right after shelling them and then put them in your freezer. They keep from year to year (that is, from one pecan season to the next).

MRS. F. R. HAEUSER.

DEAR HELOISE: I use instant pudding to make nourishing popsicles for my children. Wonderful! Just prepare according to directions on box and freeze.

Man Barely Escapes Fire In Car Interior

The interior of a 1958 sedan was destroyed and the driver barely had time to escape from the burning car late Monday afternoon, firemen reported.

Driving the two - door car owned by Charlotte Woodruff, Harry Pinkerton turned off St. Clair Ave. into Burton Alley and just had time to shut the door. The entire interior was in flames.

Firemen said the cause of the fire was undetermined but it started in the seats. The alarm was received at 4:40 p. m.

The department was called to the Econo - Wash Laundry, 930 State St., at 11 a. m. yesterday when a washer caught fire. Firemen said the washer was overloaded and dirty.

Church To Vote On Aspirant For Pulpit Vacancy

A congregational meeting will be held Thursday night at the First Church of Christ to vote on the Rev. E. C. Traylor of Kennett, Mo., as the new minister.

Rev. Traylor has been recommended by the Official Board.

The meeting will begin with coffee and cake at 7 p. m. in the social rooms. The congregation will go to the sanctuary at 8:30 p. m. for the remainder of the business and the voting.

A graduate of Cincinnati Bible Seminary, he has served pastorates at Junction City, Ky., Ironton, Zanesville and Kennett.

He spent almost 16 years at Zanesville and has been at Kennett since June 1961. Rev. Traylor has been engaged in marriage counseling and has been active in civic affairs. He is a member of the Masons, the United Commercial Travelers and the Grange.

He also has served on the Board of Ohio Christian Missionary Society for three years. The vacancy resulted from the resignation of John Mostoller, who took a new charge at Cameron, W. Va.

Proper Cleating Marks Seaman

By JOHN BOHANNAN

A little time devoted to the proper use of cleats will pay off. Proper cleating saves time and effort, prevents fouling, offers more secure holding power.

It also keeps you from being tagged as a landlubber by those hanging around the club dock.

First, let's consider a line coming in at the same level as the cleat. If it's a dock line which may be alternately slack and taut, we like to use a round turn under the cleat, finishing off with a half hitch over the horn next to the standing part.

THIS HAS two advantages. First, the round turn gives more security because of the added friction of the extra turn. Second, since you ordinarily will be facing the standing part, it's more natural to throw a half hitch over the horn away from you, pulling toward you to tighten the hitch.

When a dock line comes in at a high angle, as in the case of a low tide situation or low water level, safer cleating can be obtained by putting a clove hitch on the cleat.

This is done by bringing the standing part down around the horn nearest you, crossing the end over the standing part, then throwing a half hitch over the horn next to the standing part.

The guard turn around the standing part will prevent it from slipping off the end of the horn should there be any boat movement.

The only disadvantage to using a clove hitch on a cleat is that it tends to jam slightly under a strain. For casting off, the strain can be relieved by pulling on the standing part. This seldom poses any problem with a dock line.

WHEN PUTTING the loop of an eye splice around a bow cleat, if the loop is too large for security, a round turn can be taken under the cleat. If the boat is to be left unattended, take the added precaution of using a piece of light line to seize the remainder of the loop up close under the horns of the cleat.

Open cleats often are attached to the stern deck in a fore-and-aft position. These offer a special and convenient method of using eye-spliced dock lines. Merely pass the loop through the center of the cleat, spread it out over each horn, then draw the line taught. That's all there is to it, and it's entirely dependable.

To release, push the standing part through the opening, spread the loop until it clears the horns, then pull it free.

The end of a work bench is a good place for attaching a cleat for home practice between seasons.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Is there an advantage in using belaying pins instead of cleats for sailboat halyards?

A.—Yes. The line can be cast off merely by pulling the pin. Besides, a pin rail has a saltier appearance.

Q.—I have a plywood foredeck on my runabout and there is no frame underneath where I want to bolt a cleat. Would it be all right just to bolt it to the deck?

A.—No. Use a piece of hardwood, preferably white oak, to bridge between the nearest deck beams and attach it to them securely with wood screws. Accurately cut a block of wood of proper thickness to use as a spacer between the new carling and the deck. Drill down through the deck, spacer, and carling for your cleat bolts.

Nautical Terms

Round turn — Two complete turns.

Standing part — The part of a line which already is attached to something.

Eye splice — A loop on the end of a line, made by splicing the bitter end back into the standing part.

To seize — To bind with a light line.

Halyard — A line used for hoisting a sail or flag.

Pin rail — A piece of wood or metal containing holes for belaying pins. It also is known as a fife rack.

50 At Pomona Grange Event

LISBON — Fifty attended the Pomona Grange meeting Saturday night at Willow Grove Grange Hall.

The grange will promote the county community progress project this year and the county home economics committee met and decided to make cancer pads, shirts for lepers and collect old greetings cards and used eye glasses as the projects for this year.

An invitation was received from Stark County Grange youths for Columbiana County Grange youths to meet with them Monday at Robertsville Grange Hall. A state legislative conference will be held in Columbus Saturday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The lecturer's program, with Mrs. Cecil King of Greeley Grange in charge, included the traveling tools, which is the county's project for this year; group singing, readings by Mrs. Edgar Conn of Wayne Grange; piano duets by Mrs. Rugh Schmidt and Allan Schmidt of Perry Grange; skit by Floyd Stamp, Ronald Sanor and Vincent Domencetti of Willow Grove, reading by Mrs. Harry Sherwood of Willow Grove and contests and stunts.

Mrs. Donald Sanor of Willow Grove, Pomona juvenile matron was installed by Charles L. Morlon, deputy master.

A basket dinner was served at noon by the women of the Willow Grove Grange.

Johnson's Hopes Dashed

Efforts To End Boycott Of Wheat Shipments Fail

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Efforts of the Labor Department's top troubleshooter to quickly settle a union boycott against U.S. wheat shipments to the Soviet Union apparently have failed.

Insistence by labor leaders that at least half the grain be transported in U.S. vessels dashed President Johnson's hopes of an early solution.

James J. Reynolds, assistant secretary of labor, who was sent here by the President, was to have held a news conference on the wheat dispute Monday night, but it was called off.

Reynolds was to leave today for Daytona Beach on another labor dispute, a strike against the Florida East Coast Railway that has slowed construction of space facilities at Cape Kennedy.

Most of the nation's chief labor leaders are here for the annual meeting of the AFL - CIO Executive Council.

AFL - CIO President George Meany told a news conference Monday he had agreed to Johnson's personal appeal to help seek a settlement of the boycott. But Meany also said he backed the union stand.

The International Longshoremen's Association halted the loading of wheat on two foreign ships in New Orleans and one in Houston.

Longshoremen's President Thomas W. Gleason said all wheat shipments to the Soviet Union, even on American vessels, would be tied up unless the administration lives up to an agreement providing for at least 50 per cent shipments in U.S. vessels.

Reynolds apparently gave up hope of an immediate settlement after round - the - clock sessions with union leaders and frequent telephone conferences with Secretary of Labor W. Williard Wirtz in Washington.

Continental Grain Co., which sold $75 million worth of grain to the Soviet Union, says it cannot find enough acceptable U.S. ships to carry half the cargo.

Union officials say this is just an excuse to use cheaper foreign ships, including some that had been blacklisted by the United States for trading with Cuba.

45 At Township Trustee Session

LISBON — Forty-five attended the Columbiana County Township Trustees and Clerks Association meeting Monday night at the Salineville Elementary School. Charles Gause of Hanover Township, president, presided.

James Miller of Salineville, county juvenile officer, discussed juvenile delinquency and Russell Phillis, superintendent of the County Home, spoke on the relationship between trustees and the home and procedures to enter a township resident in the home.

The group planned a campaign for members and associates.

Guests included Galen Greenisen of Salem and Walter Hunston of East Palestine, county commissioners, and township road supervisors.

Refreshments were served by Roy Brammer of Salineville, representing the Galion Road Equipment Co.

Next meeting in April will be candidates Night, the time and place to be announced.

County Plans Radio Center For Firemen

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners will open bids for a base radio station and receiver on the 150-megacycle band to be installed in the Sheriff's department as the central base station for all township and village fire departments in the county.

Bids will be opened at noon March 4 for the equipment for which specifications may be obtained in the commissioners' office.

The commissioners agreed at their meeting Monday to purchase the equipment and the Sheriff's department will handle the service for the fire departments.

A slag grant of $300 was given to Salem Township and travel allowance was authorized for Russell Reichenbach, county dog warden, and Harold McCall of Rogers, assistant dog warden, to attend a dog wardens meeting in Steubenville Wednesday.

The commissioners will meet Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Chester Masons To Hear Weirton Official At Fete

Frank Poland, director of education and training at the Weirton Steel Co., will speak at a Washington's Birthday banquet of the Chester Masonic Lodge at which 25-year members will be honored Saturday.

The event will be held at 6:30 at the Masonic Temple.

Poland, longtime employe of the steel firm and a member of the Speakers Bureau, will discuss, "The Challenge Is Still Here."

Announcement of the foremost Mason of the Year will be made by a committee composed of Burton Ward, Harold Dickey, Edwin Wine, Everett Chandler, Carl Mooney and Walter McSwegin.

George P. May is master.

John Lucas, Penn State track and cross country coach, holds a masters degree from Southern California and a doctor of education degree from the University of Maryland.

Area Engineers Plan Dinner At Youngstown

E. H. Hartley of Cleveland will speak at a dinner meeting of the Mahoning Valley Society of Professional Engineers and auxiliary Saturday night at 7 at the Elks Club at Youngstown.

The society includes engineers from Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull Counties. Hartley, manager of shopping services for Halle Brothers Co. store at Cleveland, will speak on "The Customer Is Always Right." Adolph Brandt of East Liverpool is secretary.

Candidate Talks To Joy Class Of Glendale Church

Don Chaney of Chester, seeking the Democratic nomination for Hancock County sheriff in the May 12 primary, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Joy Class of the Glendale Church of the Nazarene Friday night.

Twenty - eight attended with Mrs. Lottie Halstead of Glendale Rd., Newell.

Mrs. Norma Heath, president, presided. Mrs. Juanita Harper led group singing, Mrs. Anna Mae Ogden offered prayer, and Mrs. Isabelle Sinclair read Scripture.

Secret pals exchanged valentines. There was a handkerchief shower for Mrs. Birdie Bragg and Mrs. Thurza Galloway.

Mrs. Margaret Halstead, Mrs. Lillie Church and Mrs. Harper won prizes in games, with Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Mildred Gillespie in charge. Lunch was served.

Next meeting will be March 20, with the place to be announced.

Beaver Gets Custody Of Youth In Collision

A 17-year-old Midland youth, cited early Saturday by police after his car struck two parked autos on lower Broadway, has been turned over to Beaver County juvenile authorities.

Juvenile Officer James Miller said the youth was turned over to W. L. Ambrose, chief probation and juvenile officer in Beaver County.

The youth has been out on bond on an auto theft charge since last month., Beaver County authorities informed local officers. They will also handle the reckless driving charge on which he was cited by local police.

Miller said he forwarded to Beaver County authorities statements listing approximately $791 damages to the parked cars of William L. Sisley of Sherwood Ave. and Albert M. George, 317 E. 3rd St.

Brake, Accelerator Placed On One Pedal

CHICAGO (AP) — An automobile designer has come up with a brake and accelerator combination on one pedal.

Product Engineering, a trade publication, reports that it may lessen the time it takes to move the foot from accelerator to brake, preventing fatal accidents.

The top portion of the gas-pedal is linked with the engine accelerator and speeds and slows the car. The lower portion of the pedal can be depressed with the heel to brake the car.

Nebraska Rig Driver Forfeits $25 In Crash

Robert D. Nitz, 25, of Lincoln, Neb., forfeited a $25 appearance bond on a traffic violation Monday night before Chester Squire W. Eugene Allison.

Nitz was cited on a charge of failure to have his vehicle under control by Constable J. Carl Durham after his rig crashed over a hillside at Taylors Bend, on the Route 30 Chester Hill on Feb. 9.

Proper Cleating Marks Seaman

By JOHN BOHANNAN

A little time devoted to the proper use of cleats will pay off. Proper cleating saves time and effort, prevents fouling, offers more secure holding power.

It also keeps you from being tagged as a landlubber by those hanging around the club dock.

First, let's consider a line coming in at the same level as the cleat. If it's a dock line which may be alternately slack and taut, we like to use a round turn under the cleat, finishing off with a half hitch over the horn next to the standing part.

THIS HAS two advantages. First, the round turn gives more security because of the added friction of the extra turn. Second, since you ordinarily will be facing the standing part, it's more natural to throw a half hitch over the horn away from you, pulling toward you to tighten the hitch.

When a dock line comes in at a high angle, as in the case of a low tide situation or low water level, safer cleating can be obtained by putting a clove hitch on the cleat.

This is done by bringing the standing part down around the horn nearest you, crossing the end over the standing part, then throwing a half hitch over the horn next to the standing part.

The guard turn around the standing part will prevent it from slipping off the end of the horn should there be any boat movement.

The only disadvantage to using a clove hitch on a cleat is that it tends to jam slightly under a strain. For casting off, the strain can be relieved by pulling on the standing part. This seldom poses any problem with a dock line.

WHEN PUTTING the loop of an eye splice around a bow cleat, if the loop is too large for security, a round turn can be taken under the cleat. If the boat is to be left unattended, take the added precaution of using a piece of light line to seize the remainder of the loop up close under the horns of the cleat.

Open cleats often are attached to the stern deck in a fore-and-aft position. These offer a special and convenient method of using eye-spliced dock lines. Merely pass the loop through the center of the cleat, spread it out over each horn, then draw the line taught. That's all there is to it, and it's entirely dependable.

To release, push the standing part through the opening, spread the loop until it clears the horns, then pull it free.

The end of a work bench is a good place for attaching a cleat for home practice between seasons.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Is there an advantage in using belaying pins instead of cleats for sailboat halyards?

A.—Yes. The line can be cast off merely by pulling the pin. Besides, a pin rail has a saltier appearance.

Q.—I have a plywood fore-deck on my runabout and there is no frame underneath where I want to bolt a cleat. Would it be all right just to bolt it to the deck?

A.—No. Use a piece of hardwood, preferably white oak, to bridge between the nearest deck beams and attach it to them securely with wood screws. Accurately cut a block of wood of proper thickness to use as a spacer between the new carling and the deck. Drill down through the deck, spacer, and carling for your cleat bolts.

Nautical Terms

Round turn — Two complete turns.

Standing part — The part of a line which already is attached to something.

Eye splice — A loop on the end of a line, made by splicing the bitter end back into the standing part.

To seize — To bind with a light line.

Halyard — A line used for hoisting a sail or flag.

Pin rail — A piece of wood or metal containing holes for belaying pins. It also is known as a fife rack.

Johnson's Hopes Dashed

Efforts To End Boycott Of Wheat Shipments Fail

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Efforts of the Labor Department's top troubleshooter to quickly settle a union boycott against U.S. wheat shipments to the Soviet Union apparently have failed.

Insistence by labor leaders that at least half the grain be transported in U.S. vessels dashed President Johnson's hopes of an early solution.

James J. Reynolds, assistant secretary of labor, who was sent here by the President, was to have held a news conference on the wheat dispute Monday night, but it was called off.

Reynolds was to leave today for Daytona Beach on another labor dispute, a strike against the Florida East Coast Railway that has slowed construction of space facilities at Cape Kennedy.

Most of the nation's chief labor leaders are here for the annual meeting of the AFL - CIO Executive Council.

AFL - CIO President George Meany told a news conference Monday he had agreed to Johnson's personal appeal to help seek a settlement of the boycott. But Meany also said he backed the union stand.

The International Longshoremen's Association halted the loading of wheat on two foreign ships in New Orleans and one in Houston.

Longshoremen's President Thomas W. Gleason said all wheat shipments to the Soviet Union, even on American vessels, would be tied up unless the administration lives up to an agreement providing for at least 50 per cent shipments in U.S. vessels.

Reynolds apparently gave up hope of an immediate settlement after round - the - clock sessions with union leaders and frequent telephone conferences with Secretary of Labor W. Williard Wirtz in Washington.

Continental Grain Co., which sold $75 million worth of grain to the Soviet Union, says it cannot find enough acceptable U.S. ships to carry half the cargo.

Union officials say this is just an excuse to use cheaper foreign ships, including some that had been blacklisted by the United States for trading with Cuba.

The society includes engineers from Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull Counties. Hartley, manager of shopping services for Halle Brothers Co. store at Cleveland, will speak on "The Customer Is Always Right." Adolph Brandt of East Liverpool is secretary.

County Plans Radio Center For Firemen

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners will open bids for a base radio station and receiver on the 150-megacycle band to be installed in the Sheriff's department as the central base station for all township and village fire departments in the county.

Bids will be opened at noon March 4 for the equipment for which specifications may be obtained in the commissioners' office.

The commissioners agreed at their meeting Monday to purchase the equipment and the Sheriff's department will handle the service for the fire departments.

A slag grant of $300 was given to Salem Township and travel allowance was authorized for Russell Reichenbach, county dog warden, and Harold McCall of Rogers, assistant dog warden, to attend a dog wardens meeting in Steubenville Wednesday.

The commissioners will meet Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Chester Masons To Hear Weirton Official At Fete

Frank Poland, director of education and training at the Weirton Steel Co., will speak at a Washington's Birthday banquet of the Chester Masonic Lodge at which 25-year members will be honored Saturday.

E. L. Review: Feb. 18, 1964

THE STATE OF OHIO, COLUMBIANA COUNTY, SS.
IN THE MATTER OF THE ADOPTION OF William Edward Allmon
To: Mary Anna Allmon
Address Unknown
IN PROBATE COURT
NOTICE OF HEARING
O.R.C. Sec. 3107.06 (B) (4)
Case No. 1554 Doc. A-2 Pg. 167

You are hereby notified that on the 11th day of February, 1964, a petition was filed in the Probate Court of Columbiana County, Ohio, for the adoption of William Edward Allmon who was born Nov. 11, 1952, at Salem, Ohio.

Said petition contains the allegation that you, as the mother of said child have wilfully failed to properly support and maintain said child for a period of more than two years immediately preceding the filing of this petition.

If at the hearing it is found that the allegations of the petition are true your consent to the adoption of the above named child will not be required.

Hearing on said petition will be on the 24th day of March, 1964, at 9:30 o'clock A.M. in the Probate Court of Columbiana County at the Court House, Lisbon Ohio.

Witness my signature and the seal of said Court at Lisbon, Ohio, this 13th day of February, 1964.
LOUIS TOBIN
Probate Judge

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JEFFREY MALCOLM TAYLOR.
It's now 3 years Jeff since you left us. Your voice is still. But our memories of you will live on forever. We still miss you so.
Sadly missed by parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Taylor, Brother Jim, Sister Janice, and Grandma Echols.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE little think as we go from day to day, how quickly sorrow can strike at the heart, but when it did, the instant sympathy and helpfulness of friends deeply comforting in the sad loss of our beloved Omer E. Scott. We are grateful to each and all who have given and offered their services to us. Special thanks to Rev. Estell and Rev. Rearic, soloist, pallbearers and Martin Funeral Home.

OFF THE RECORD

"Some day you're going to step into my shoes—so stop being so pleasant to everybody!"

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 18, the 49th day of 1964. There are 317 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1688, the first recorded public stand against slavery in the American colonies was taken in Germantown, Pa. The vote against slavery was taken at a meeting of members of the Society of Friends—the Quakers.

On this date

In 1849, the first steamship on regular service between New York and California arrived in San Francisco; most of the crew deserted to join the gold rush.

In 1861, "Dixie" was first used as a Confderate song at the inauguration of Jefferson Davis as president of the Confederacy.

In 1915, Germany began its official submarine blockade of Britain.

In 1939, the Golden Gate International Exposition opened in San Francisco.

In 1943, Madame Chiang Kai-Shek of Nationalist China addressed Congress in Washington.

Ten years ago...The British government announced a big defense appropriation for 1954-55 with emphasis on atomic weapons and a reducion in land forces.

Five years ago...The U.N. Security Council voted to turn the question of ending U.N. trusteeship over the British Cameroons in West Africa to the General Assembly, without making any recommendation.

One year ago...The AFL-CIO Executive Council met in Bal Harbour, Fla., and approved a resolution to reduce the work week to 35 hours and increase overtime pay.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: A magnet can pick up metal nails, and mercury is a metal, so why can't a magnet pick up mercury?

ANSWER: It's true that mercury is a metal—the only one we commonly see in liquid form. But mercury does not belong to the "ferromagnetic" group of metals. "Ferrous" means pertaining to iron, and iron is the chief metal affected in a high degree by magnetism, others being nickel, cobalt and gatolinium. This is why the mercury in the thermometer is paying no attention to Jimmy's magnet, while the iron nails are hanging by their heads.

While iron is the chief metal used in making magnets, it is often combined with other ferromagnetic metals in what are called alloys. There is still much to be learned about magnetism. Many scientists, however, explain it by the idea that the minute molecules in iron are all jumbled together, but that when it is magnetized, they are then lined up in orderly rows. Then, these scientists say, they can exert an attraction all together, for each molecule attracts others. This group attraction can reach out beyond the magnetized metal and do strange things like picking up nails.

FOR YOU TO DO: Become familiar with magnets and magnetism. You'll be amazed to find the great extent to which magnets are used in our modern world.
